Deny Bible Class Sponsors Myers Talk

MEN OPPOSE FIGHT MADE ON NELSON, SAYS CHIEF

Leader of Large Community Organization Makes Body's Position Clear OBJECT TO ATTACKS ON PUBLIC OFFICIALS
Martin Explains Stand Regarding Use of High School By Speakers

BY A. B. BERRY
A FLAT DENIAL that the Men's Community Bible class of Santa Ana was "sponsoring" proposed speeches at the high school auditorium on the night of January 9, to be delivered by the Rev. Leon Myers and William Starbuck, prominent liquor raid workers in the county, was made today by W. B. Martin, president of the Bible class and by Herschel Clayton, secretary.

No denial was made that the class had passed a resolution, offering their influence in securing the building for the speaking, but officers of the class were insistent that the class was not behind the speaking in any way.

"If we were sponsoring the speaking we would pick our own speakers, but we are not," said Martin. "We do not approve of Myers getting up in public and criticizing our county officers," Martin continued.

Don't Favor Scoring
"Starbuck appeared before the executive committee of the class last Tuesday night and asked that we endorse his speaking in Santa Ana and asked us to write a letter to the Santa Ana board of education, in connection with securing the high school auditorium for the meeting," Martin related.

Following is the letter the Bible class sent to the board of education, which, according to Martin, refutes the statement that the class is sponsoring the proposed speaking:

"The Men's Community Bible class of Santa Ana, having a membership of more than 300 representative citizens of the city of Santa Ana, at its regular business meeting held at the First Christian church, December 30, 1924, unanimously carried the following motion, 'That the Men's Community Bible class use their influence in helping to secure the use of the Santa Ana high school auditorium for a speech to be delivered by Rev. Leon Myers and William Starbuck, it being guaranteed by the said William Starbuck that there would be no personal attacks on any of our officers.'"

"Respectfully submitted, 'The Men's Community Bible Class of Santa Ana, 'W. B. MARTIN, Pres. 'HERSCHEL CLAYTON, Secy.'"

Not Fighting Nelson
"The Men's Community Bible class is very anxious for the public to know that it is not in any way connected in the fight against District Attorney A. P. Nelson, and that we do not approve of criticism against our city or county officials by Myers or any one else from a public platform, but we are after the bootleggers, and we will back them up as strongly as possible to this end," stated Martin.

"We don't want to be connected in any way with the fight, however, and we endorsed the meeting because of our interest in seeing the county freed from bootleggers."

Letters, filed with Alex Brownridge, president of the board of education, from both the Men's Community Bible class and Myers, asking for the use of the auditorium, have not been acted upon, it was announced by a member of the board, today.

NEW DON QUIXOTE
MADRID, Dec. 31.—A modern Don Quixote has charged the windmill. When the popular story of the mad knight was enacted in an open-air theater here, the mayor of Preist filled the role of Don Quixote. He was to have charged the mill with a cracked lance that would break as soon as it touched the sails. The lance failed to break, however, and the mayor was seriously injured in the performance.

FORMER FULLERTON WOMAN, FIGURE IN MARITAL TANGLE, GIVEN DIVORCE IN NEVADA

MRS. LUCILLE GLADYS SPARKS
After a stormy matrimonial career Mrs. Sparks, daughter of F. C. Krause, Fullerton banker, has been granted a divorce, according to a statement by her father today. Mrs. Sparks is well known in Fullerton and other parts of Orange county and also in Los Angeles social circles.

WOMAN SLAIN WITH HATCHET; QUIZ HUSBAND

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 3.—Mrs. May Hahne, 46, hatchet murder victim, came to her death at the hands of her husband, John Warren Hahne, a co-owner's jury found this afternoon. The jury recommended that Hahne be held for first degree murder. Hahne was stoical throughout the inquest. He did not take the stand. He still holds to his story that he found his wife's body, the skull beaten in and with 24 deep cuts on it, in the basement of his home at 2 p. m. Friday, and that she was murdered during his absence between 10:30 a. m. and 2 p. m.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 3.—Police today questioned John Warren Hahne, wealthy contractor and real estate dealer, whose wife, May Hahne, 46, her skull beaten in with a hatchet, was found in the cellar of the Hahne home here late yesterday.

There were 12 deep gashes, several of them three or four inches long, on the woman's head. The knuckle of her right hand had been broken and cut, indicating, she had tried to defend herself.

A hatchet and hammer, each covered with blood, were found hanging over Hahne's workbench. A suit of work clothes, with blood on the suspenders, was also found.

The large diamond carriage had not been taken, but two diamond rings, valued at $1000 each, have not been found. Hahne was confined to an asylum for a short time four years ago, police said.

His first wife was found dead behind a bed in New York City in October, 1911, according to authorities. Hahne married his second wife in San Francisco in 1915.

WILL PROSECUTE DENTAL FRAUDS

PETALUMA, Cal., Jan. 3.—Prosecution of scores of dentists in California who are alleged to have obtained their licenses fraudulently or have been guilty of infractions of the dental practices act, was planned here today by members of the state dental board.

Dr. Orris E. Jackson, secretary of the board, called the meeting after investigators claimed to have uncovered widespread fraud among dental practitioners.

Monetary Troubles All Are Settled Out of Court, Says Banker

Marital troubles of Dr. A. P. Sparks, dashing young Los Angeles dentist, and his comely wife, Mrs. Lucille Gladys Sparks, daughter of F. C. Krause, prominent Fullerton banker, have been peacefully terminated, despite the sensational charges which marked their affairs last September.

Mrs. Sparks has just been granted a divorce in Nevada, it was ascertained today by The Register. Her father this morning verified the report.

The news of the divorce, incidentally solves the mystery of Mrs. Sparks' whereabouts at the time her irate husband was endeavoring to secure her arrest late last September on a grand larceny charge. He declared that she had stolen $21,000 worth of securities from a safety deposit box in a Fullerton bank.

Banker Defends Daughter
Krause denied that his daughter had "stolen" the papers, declaring that she had merely taken what she individually owned.

Contrary to expectations there were no "fireworks" when the divorce suit came up for trial. A Reno settlement was effected quietly and peacefully after all the bitter wrangling which marked the couple's dispute a few months ago.

The warrant, which was issued through the district attorney's office here for Mrs. Sparks' arrest, was never served. The proceedings were dropped after her attorney, Attorney A. P. Nelson another version of the affair.

Mrs. Sparks in Nevada
Mrs. Sparks is still in Nevada staying with friends, her father stated today.

The exact whereabouts of Mrs. Sparks were not disclosed by Krause. A telegraphic inquiry to Mrs. Sparks had not filed her suit out of the chief "divorce mill" in Nevada. It is thought that she instituted proceedings through one of the smaller county courts in an effort to avoid publicity.

U. S. NAMES 3 TO PARIS CONFERENCE

Ambassadors Kellogg and Herrick and Colonel Logan Represent America

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—Appointment of Ambassador Kellogg at London, Ambassador Herrick at Paris, and Colonel James A. Logan, unofficial observer of the reparations commission, as the American representatives to the Paris Financial conference January 7, was announced at the state department today.

Ambassador Herrick cabled the state department today that the opening session of the conference has been postponed one day to January 7 because of organizational requirements.

Inclusion of Kellogg as one of this country's representatives, was interpreted here as meaning this government will use the London-Dawes agreement as a confirmation of its right to collect $250,000,000 of American war claims from the reparations funds.

FRANCE'S TROUBLES ARE NEARING END
PARIS, Jan. 3.—France is "reaching the end of her difficulties," according to Louise Louchet, deputy minister, famous "big business man" and authority on financial and economic affairs.

This opinion of M. Louchet, given as his "sincere conviction," was expressed today in an exclusive interview granted the United Press on the subject of France's future during 1925.

M. Louchet's views are considered significant, in view of the political opinion that he may again be called to some high place in a new French government, possibly as premier or finance minister.

There is no chance of a victory of the "communist" movement in France, he declared, in addition to outlining his views on the French political situation. (Copyright, 1925, by United Press)

CONTINUE WEYMOUTH AS SQUADRON CHIEF
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—W. W. Anderson, Chicago prohibition chief, transferred here, will have charge of the inspection squad of the Southern California dry forces.

Charles Weymouth will still be in command of the raiding squad. There is a movement underway to combine the two offices but this has not yet been consummated.

Anderson has been here before in prohibition work and was sent to Chicago some months ago.

BUILDING STARTS BRISKLY FOR 1925

Santa Ana has started the new year off right. This is the opinion of W. S. Decker, building inspector, who announced early today that he had issued three permits yesterday, the first new homes in Santa Ana, aggregating an expenditure of $9,500.

"If we can keep up the good example set by the first day of the year, this will certainly be a building year and a year of 'own your own homes' in Santa Ana," he said.

A permit was issued to John Dohmer, 810 West First street, for a $4,000 home, to be built at that location of stucco and frame. A garage is also included. P. Anderson secured a permit for a $2,500 home and garage at 512 Cypress street and the largest permit of the new year has been issued to C. W. Holcomb, 187 West Third street, for a $5,000 home and garage. This too will be constructed of frame and stucco.

Stop Tom Mix Speeding In Anaheim

ANAHEIM, Jan. 3.—While speeding through Anaheim in a big automobile at a 45-mile clip, on his way from Tia Juana to Hollywood, Tom Mix, noted film star, was stopped by officers here Wednesday night, and his chauffeur, Earl L. Osborne, was arrested on a charge of speeding. Osborne was given until Monday afternoon to appear before Judge Charles Kuchel to answer to the charge. Mix was alone in the rear seat of the car.

SEES BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR BOULDER DAM

"There appears to be a good prospect that the Boulder Dam bill will be reported favorably to the senate by the senate reclamation committee at the present session, but no possibility that it will be passed until a later session," said Supervisor S. H. Finley, of Santa Ana, today, following his return from Washington where he attended hearings on the Swing-Johnson measure.

Supervisor Finley testified at the hearing, dealing with the subject of domestic water, which figures as one of the projects connected with the proposed dam. This subject was assigned to the local man, who represented the Colorado River Aqueduct association before the committee.

In his testimony he covered plans for distribution of domestic water among the various cities, and said, led him to believe that a favorable report will be made at the present session. While east, he gained the impression also that the house irrigation committee, which conducted hearings a year ago, is favorably inclined to the bill and may report on it at this session.

There is no chance of congress agreeing upon the measure and adopting it before the session closes March 4. No Opposition Shown.

A resume of the house committee hearings was given before the senate committee additional testimony being supplied by the Southern California witnesses. No opposition developed, although the committee has since reopened its hearings to hear testimony of the opposition. Senator Hiram Johnson handled the hearing, aided by Representative Bill Swire, of this district, who also appeared as a witness.

The subjects of testimony were flood control, irrigation, power development, domestic water and, lastly, the all-American canal, a feature which, according to Finley, has aroused much interest in the measure among senators.

Members of the committee attending the hearings were: Senator McNary, of Oregon, chairman; Senators Shortridge, of California; Odell, of Nevada; Walsh, of Montana; Kendrick, of Wyoming; Phillips, of Colorado; Ashurst, of Arizona, and Jones, of Washington.

KILLS WIFE, SON, TAKES OWN LIFE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Lohmua Hogue, 35, today shot and killed his wife, infant son and then turned a revolver upon himself, committing suicide.

Hogue had accused his wife of charging him with insanity. Deputy Sheriff Clarence Parin, a brother-in-law of Hogue, had heard of his threat, and rushed to the residence, accompanied by other officers.

The house stands a half mile back from the road. As the officers approached, they heard no signs of a disturbance, but upon entering, found the three bodies, still warm. Hogue had evidently carried out his threat only a few minutes before the officers arrived.

The bodies were removed to a Long Beach undertaking parlor, where the inquest will be held Monday.

Bonus Paid Motor Transit Employees

New Year's day, the Motor Transit company started payment of yearly bonuses for 1924 to operators who had been with the company a year or more and with clean records, showing carefulness in driving and courtesy in their dealings with passengers.

This year 72 operators received bonus checks; the combined amounts totaling several thousand dollars.

For several years it has been the custom of the Motor Transit company to show its appreciation of its operators' efforts by giving these welcome checks.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—President Coolidge today sent to the senate the nomination of Charles D. Heywood to be postmaster at Berkeley, Cal.

EXPECT P. O. BILL WILL BE PASSED

Amended Legislation Is Acceptable to President, Moses Says

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—The new compromise postal pay bill was brought before the senate today by its author, Senator Moses, New Hampshire Republican, in an effort to speed it through before a vote comes Tuesday on the vetoed Edge bill. Moses immediately encountered difficulties when he was informed by the chair that his bill might not be voted on under the rules until the vetoed measure is disposed of.

This opened the way for the small group opposed to the measure to block any unanimous agreement to set aside the rules and place the measure in a serious parliamentary situation. Simultaneously it developed that Moses had taken a poll on his bill which assured it if he can successfully get it to a vote. He claims at least sixty votes—about two thirds majority.

MOSES SEES COOLIDGE ABOUT AMENDED BILL
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The postal rates increase bill as amended by the senate postoffice committee and presented to the senate yesterday, is acceptable to President Coolidge, Senator Moses, New Hampshire Republican, said today following a conference at the White House.

SENATE LEADERS SEE WAY OUT OF TANGLE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Republican senate leaders believe they have found a way out of the postal pay difficulty. There are indications that the revised bill combining pay and rate increases probably will pass the senate next Tuesday.

If their confidence is well founded it will be another important victory for President Coolidge. The dispute arose when Mr. Coolidge vetoed the Edge bill raising salaries of postal clerks $68,000,000 because it failed to provide any means of obtaining the revenue.

Recently at the suggestion of the executive, the postoffice department suggested new rate scales for postal matter which would raise the amount necessary for the contemplated expenditure. But a storm of protest arose, chiefly from publishers and indications then pointed to adoption of the old bill over the President's veto.

The new rates tempered somewhat by the Senate post office committee, from the suggestions of the postoffice department, have found unexpected favor and while Senator George Moses, New Hampshire Republican, who will have charge of the measure on the floor, has not yet completed any poll, he feels that it probably will pass.

Motorist Runs Over Cop and Pays $100 Fine

ORANGE, Jan. 3.—His uniform torn, his legs and arms cut and bruised, Night Officer Charles W. Pulley narrowly escaped severe injury Thursday night when he was struck by an automobile piloted by E. J. Brown, of Orange.

The accident occurred while the officer was stationed on the butte at the intersection of Pine and Chapman avenues, directing traffic during a fire call.

Brown was placed under arrest, charged with reckless driving. Although they said they detected liquor on the man's breath, the officers filed only the solitary charge against the motorist.

Hailed before Judge John Landell, Friday morning, after having spent the night in jail, Brown pleaded guilty to the reckless driving charge, offering the excuse that he was in a hurry to visit a sick friend in Santa Ana.

The motorist was fined $100 which he raised through outside assistance.

Promises larger growth and greater accomplishments for Southern California than ever before. Thousands are coming here. Millions will be spent. Santa Ana will get her share. Detective Clad As Butcher Shoots Bandits

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Two bandits are in a hospital today because the butcher as they tried to hold up wasn't a butcher at all. He was Detective Lieutenant Cahill.

The regular butcher, noticing two suspicious-looking persons about his shop, called the officers. Cahill put on a white apron and "went on shift."

While housewives "bawled him out" for being so clumsy with the cleaver and not knowing a pot roast from a flank steak, the bandits went into action.

They were peppered with buckshot by Cahill and two other officers who, under the guise of grocery clerks, were mulling around the vegetables.

IMPEACHMENT STORY PROBE IS REQUESTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Charges appearing in Liberty magazine under the signature of Mary Allen Fulburt, formerly Mrs. Peck, that "representatives of the Republican party" in 1916 approached her seeking information to be used in an attempt to impeach the late President Wilson, would be investigated by a select house committee under a resolution introduced today by Representative Reid, Republican, Illinois.

Reid's resolution recited the impeachment powers of the house and declared that the "house should not permit to pass unnoticed charges by a responsible person in a responsible publication of attempts to procure impeachments by corrupt means."

"Stories have been heard for about four years," said Reid, "reflecting not only upon the character of the late President Wilson, but upon the Republican party organization in the year that it directed the campaign of Charles Evans Hughes for the presidency, with Mr. Wilson as his opponent."

Each presidential campaign brings a new crop of stories, and it is high time to put a stop to such practices."

STOCKTON, Cal., Jan. 3.—Little progress has been made today in clearing up the mysterious disappearance of Pat Gentiles, Fresno taxi stand proprietor, whose car was found at the Santa Fe depot here. His blood-stained overcoat, an automatic pistol and other belongings were in the machine. A pool of fresh blood was revealed on the floor.

Whether Gentiles was murdered and his body disposed of, or whether he carefully planned his own disappearance has not yet been determined.

Search was being made for two men, whom police believe hired Gentiles to drive them from Fresno to Stockton. They are said to have purchased tickets on an early train yesterday morning for San Francisco. One of these men is wanted for attempted murder of a boy found in his room in Fresno.

Joe Garee, a driver for Gentiles and Mrs. Marie Albin, who conducts the Kenilworth hotel in Fresno, told local police that Gentiles disappeared Thursday night about midnight after having visited a man named "Charlie" in the suburbs.

Although it is understood some attempts will be made to "railroad" certain legislation through at the last half of the session will be the most exciting and strenuous.

The first half, which some predict will last not longer than three weeks, will be taken up mainly with routine bills, appropriations and committee hearings, unless something unexpected happens to change the present plans.

CHEF IS VICTIM OF MONOXIDE GAS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Overcome by the fumes of carbon monoxide gas, Alexander Coleman, 41, a chef, was found dead in his residence at Huntington Park, a suburb, today.

Coleman is the fifteenth victim of accidental poisoning from open gas stoves during the past 90 days in this vicinity. Eleven deaths have occurred in the past 12 days.

City and county officials have started a campaign of education in an effort to influence house owners to equip gas stoves with proper vents and not burn a stove in a room with all windows closed.

SUPERVISORS TO ORGANIZE FOR NEW TERM

With a new term of service beginning for three members of the board, who were recently re-elected and are due to take the oath of office, the county supervisors are scheduled to reorganize at their meeting next Tuesday.

Selection of a chairman is one of the matters to be settled Tuesday and it is generally understood that the present chairman, T. B. Talbert, of Huntington Beach, will be a candidate to succeed himself. Talbert, whose present term expires two years hence, has been chairman of the board for 16 years.

having succeeded to that post at the death of Supervisor D. A. McMullen, of Olive, in 1909.

Talbert's long tenancy of the chairmanship has led to discussion of a possible change, with reports that Supervisor Leon Whitsell, of Villa Park, may be brought forward as a candidate. Whitsell was elected last August at the primary, after having been appointed to serve the unexpired term of Nelson T. Edwards, now a member of the state highway commission.

Whitsell, William Schumacher, of Buena Park, and S. H. Finley, of Santa Ana, are the supervisors who will take the oath of office Tuesday, to commence new terms. Talbert and Supervisor George Jeffrey, of Irvine, are the hold-over members.

So far as has been ascertained, no changes are contemplated by the supervisors in the appointments of county officers coming under the appointive class. The only change so far in sight is the appointment of Dr. V. G. Presson as county health officer, to succeed Dr. Leland Mitchell, who recently resigned to join the staff of the Rockefeller Foundation.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

CHRIST'S TRIUMPHAL ENTRY

TEXT: Luke 19:29-40

And it came to pass, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the mount of olives, he sent two of his disciples.

Saying, Go ye into the village over against you; in the which, at the entering, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon ye never man sat; loose him, and bring him hither.

And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

And they that were went on their way, and found even as he had said unto them.

And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?

And they said, The Lord hath need of him. And they brought him to Jesus; and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they sat Jesus thereon.

And as they went, they spread their clothes in the way. And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the Mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen:

Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord; peace in heaven and glory in the highest. And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

And he answered and said unto them, I tell you, that, if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist

So soon after the procession that Zacharias watched from a tree and that ended so gloriously for him, comes this greater procession that has become known as "the Triumphal Entry," which was to end in tragedy for our Lord.

Jesus had returned from Jericho to Jerusalem. Or at least when this lesson opens He was on His way thither.

He had come near to Bethany, where He had restored Lazarus to life, a place that He loved, and where He was himself deeply beloved.

It was only natural that the masses of the people should throng around Him and hail Him with joy.

And now a strange thing happens. Jesus who has almost persistently avoided the throng, who formerly has gone off in a boat across the Sea of Galilee to escape the multitude, and who has withdrawn to the mountain or desert in prayer when the people have pressed about Him, deliberately plans to enter Jerusalem in triumph and to accept the homage of the people.

What had brought about this change? We may be sure that it was no change in the heart of Jesus himself. He was still the meek and lowly Jesus. He plans to enter the city upon an ass' colt, and the symbolism of this is explained by reference to the prophecy of Zechariah.

Jesus is not coming in state, but in lowliness and service and as the bringer of salvation.

"Hour Is Come" He knows that "His hour is come." He knows that the way of seeming triumph will prove a way of sacrifice and suffering.

He had already begun to speak to the disciples of this coming to Jerusalem and of the many things that He must suffer there "of the elders and chief priests and scribes" (Matt. 16:21).

The exultation of the people is way of those who have saved others through giving themselves.

But the inherent dignity of the King of Kings, and the tender affection of His followers, turn the lowly entry into a triumphal march.

In "Palm Sunday" the historic scene has been memorialized and as Easter approaches, before "Good Friday" has commemorated Calvary, the people still throng the churches and coming forth with palm branches symbolize their joy, acclaiming as did these upon that way of old their loyalty to the King: that cometh in the name of the Lord.

How deep and real is that loyalty? These of old spread their garments upon the back of the colt. They scattered their clothes in the way, that He might even ride over covered ground. It was a far earlier and a more notable chivalry than that that led Sir Walter Raleigh to spread his cloak in the muddy path for Queen Elizabeth.

What loving deeds and tender affections Jesus called forth by the beauty of His own love and thoughtfulness!

Outward Homage But outward homage is not always the evidence of inward devotion. Did these who acclaimed Him and who spread their garments submit their hearts? Is the Savior to us a name of greatness or is He likewise our personal Master and Lord? Do we sanctify only our garments or is out inmost being brought under His sway?

Unless we feel the reality of these questions, and are able to answer them honestly, this lesson has little vital meaning for us.

It is fine to read about Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem, as it happened long ago, but of what value is it all unless Christ makes triumphal entry into our hearts?

We ought not to miss that incident in the verse immediately following the text of the lesson: "When He was come near. He beheld the city, and wept over it."

That tragedy lay far nearer the heart of Jesus than the consciousness of any outward honor to him self.

National Affairs

A Transient Record of Individual Opinion.
By Hiram W. JohnsonWashington, D. C.,
December 27, 1924

IT HAS been stated in the press that the President has marked his new lease of power by a significant exhibition of non-partisanship. There is no reason to doubt the statement, for it emanates from one of the press courtiers who, chameleon-like, revises his views with each changing administration and expresses increased admiration for each succeeding holder of power. As demonstrating his statement, the particular writer points to the attentions recently shown Democratic leaders by the President. If it be true, it is well. Few measures before Congress are partisan in character. Certain definite policies, like those which divide Republicans from Democrats; but general welfare bills, acts relating to the preservation of the public domain, and, above all, foreign policy, have little of politics in them, and they should be divorced entirely from partisan considerations, and determined only by the state of the nation.

The brief recesses of Congress, like that we have just been enjoying in the holiday season, accentuate the differences in the life of eastern and western representatives and emphasize the advantages of eastern members. Senators from nearby states in a few hours can be at home, and but an overnight journey is required to reach states bordering on the Mississippi. Eastern representatives without difficulty can spend the week-end in their local surroundings, and, if they desire, many of them can continue their business activities without interference with their official duties. It is very different with those from the far west. Constant absence from home, the political disadvantages, and the necessity for severing local ties are bad enough; but Californians suffer too, materially, in Washington, because of atmospheric humidity, is particularly severe in winter, and most trying in summer. Now we Californians long for California! And yet I might remark parenthetically that not a one of us could be driven from his position, short of a mental revolution within or a political revolution without.

THE selection of this particular location for the United States capital was dictated neither by the attractiveness of its climate nor its natural advantages. It was the result of the first congressional "log rolling," and forms a little chapter of a mode of legislation with which both states and nation have become too well acquainted. Alexander Hamilton was struggling for the adoption of his funding system, upon which the fiscal policy of the nation rested. Thomas Jefferson and some of the representatives from the south desired the capital located in the south. Hamilton was unable to carry his great policy; the southern members just fell short of a majority to locate the capital in their territory. Finally the two forces agreed, and although the southern members had been bitterly hostile to Hamilton's scheme, and certain northerners intensely antagonistic to the location of the capital in the south, the trade was effected by which mutual aid was to be extended; and, by the narrowest of margins, because of that trade, the nation's fiscal policy as proposed by Hamilton was adopted, and by an equally narrow margin, the nation's capital was established at its present location.

PARTY regularity in the senate is having grave difficulties at present. Indeed, there is confusion worse confounded. The Muscle Shoals project was an administration measure. It is fostered and sponsored on the floor by Senator Underwood, leading vice Democrat and one of the candidates for the Democratic nomination for president. Administration senators were behind the measure under this Democratic leadership. The administration apparently has now modified its views, and administration senators are getting out from under and changing their. The Isle of Pines treaty was presented to the Foreign Relations committee by the administration, and constitutes a treaty of the administration. The administration's chief spokesman, Senator Borah, is chairman of the Foreign Relations committee. He is opposing ratification of the treaty. The floor management in the impending contest for ratification will be with Senator Swanson, ranking Democrat from Virginia. There is no stronger administration senator than Senator Edge of New Jersey. Senator Edge is in charge of the bill for the increase of the wages of postal employees and is endeavoring to override the veto of the president.

NEW members whose sole anxiety is party "regularity" may be pardoned their perplexity and confusion. Nobody has suggested yet the disciplinary measures to which recalcitrants should be subjected, and indeed to separate the regulars and irregulars would be an impossible task. No one has yet had the temerity to draw the line where regularity ceases and less majestic begins. The most interesting and illuminating example of what may be done without rebuke or accusation of disloyalty has been before suggested in the matter of the child labor amendment. The Republican National platform emphatically declared for the prohibition of child labor. To constitutional amendment prohibiting child labor the Republican party and its representatives were most solemnly obligated. When the amendment was before the senate its two strongest opponents were two very able Republican senators, Borah of Idaho and Wadsworth of New York. The former is the closest adviser of the president, and was selected as his chief ally for vice-president, and the latter was given the leadership of the Republican party in the Empire state, New York. After all, men sworn to do their duty must do it as they see fit, and legislation of the ordinance regulating the shipment of frosted citrus fruit has been started in Riverside with inspectors from the office of the horticultural commissioner inspecting fruit in all packing houses in the district.

RIVERSIDE—Strict enforcement

County Horticultural Commissioner announces the following method of obtaining specimens of damaged fruit:

Cut the transverse section of each end of the fruit, leaving an area of two inches in thickness. The fruit is then broken so as to expose the outer walls of the segments.

When each of the four walls of any two segments shows crystals or waterlogging for the entire length, though not necessarily the entire width, of the segment, it shall be considered marked evidence of frost injury in two segments. The ordinance specifies that fruit showing marked evidence of damage in two segments cannot be shipped.

POMONA—A Rooney, who conducts a butcher shop in Pomona, was fined $75 and sentenced to six months in the county jail by Judge U. E. White on the charge of violating the pure food laws—selling meat containing "embalming" preparation, to make it last longer without spoiling. The ingredient in the meat, according to the allegation of the complaint and analysis of the county health department, was sodium sulphide, a drug very injurious to health, and which if consumed to any great extent will produce dangerous stomach trouble.

The inspector went to the Rooney market some time since and purchased some hamburger steak. He had the defendant put the amount of the purchase in two packages, and then informed Rooney he was going to send one package to the county laboratory for analysis, handing the market man back the other package and informing him that he could have an analysis made if he desired. The analysis proved that hamburger boiled sold over the counter of this market contained such a percentage of sodium sulphide as to be dangerous to health.

SAN BERNARDINO—Meeting the approval of the executive committee in every detail, the permanent home of the National Orange show has been formally accepted from the contractors.

Less than four months was required to erect the building, construction work having been started early in September. Except for the wiring, the main structure is completed. The permanent wiring will be installed within a few days, while temporary wiring for the fifteenth annual show will not be installed until the booths have been constructed.

The largest structure of its kind on the Pacific coast, 700 by 135 feet, the building is considered adequate in size and facilities to house the National Orange show for years to come. Not a single pillar obstructs the interior of the structure, the roof of which, 50 feet high, is supported by huge arches.

The building has been permanently divided into two main sections, with a balcony between. The north hall will be used to house the citrus exhibits, while the south hall will be for the industrial and automobile sections.

RIVERSIDE—Age deserves the benefit of the doubt, a jury in Justice H. C. Hibbard's court decided when it returned a verdict of acquittal in the trial of L. R. Whitney, 71, of Redlands, on a reckless driving charge. The jury was out only 10 minutes. Traffic officers alleged that Whitney drove recklessly on the West Riverside highway, and failed to stop when the officers hailed him as he sped past a traffic stop sign they had set out. Before he brought the machine to a halt, they alleged, he drove over the top of the road a considerable distance and struck another car.

POMONA—Measures to eliminate old-style methods of orchard heating which form great quantities of heavy smoke and soot, will be discussed at a meeting of the city officials, chamber of commerce members and fruit association officers from all districts within a wide radius of Pomona.

Cities and agricultural districts from the San Gabriel river east to Upland, Cucamonga and Ontario, and from the mountains south into Riverside and Orange counties will be represented at the conference here. They will be asked to combine in a plan of substituting more modern and less objectionable methods of orchard heating for the old style smudge pots.

must be determined as the merits require, and as the consciences of legislators dictate.

Financial and Market News

CALIFORNIA ORANGE MARKET SLOWS UP

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—(Office of the Fruit World).—The celebration of New Year on Thursday of this week again caused a slowing down of the citrus market.

On California oranges similar to that of last week. Offerings in the auction center on Monday and Tuesday were light. On Wednesday there was a complete suspension of business as far as the auctions were concerned.

Private sale markets reported a corresponding slowing down of trading. The market for the consumer having been well supplied.

The situation the past two weeks covering the holiday period has no direct bearing on actual market conditions, but were brought about as a result of the suspension of business on Wednesday and Thursday of both weeks.

There is a scarcity of immediately available supplies in best brands. The fruit is coloring slowly. Highly colored fruit is bringing a premium.

Because of prevailing conditions brought about by the cold damage, California quotations have been withdrawn for the time being.

The situation now is one of watchful waiting with every indication for a continuation of the present strong market on good, well-colored Navel.

There is a heavy demand for California lemons than there has been for the past few weeks.

California quotations range from $3.00 for Choice 360s to $4.25 for Extra Choice 360s.

There are on hand and available for sale within the next thirty days, approximately 134 cars foreign Navel, as compared with 18 cars in 1924; 136 cars in 1923 and 49 in 1922 for the corresponding period.

ENTERTAINER LEAVES PRISON

JAIL OPENS DOORS FOR PIANO KING

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 3.—Radio soon will lose one of its best entertainers, when Harry Snodgrass leaves prison.

In the loss, however, radio will win the credit of having reformed a criminal.

An unsuccessful hold-up in St. Louis, a three-year term, half of it lopped off for his good record, and now the famous "King of the Ivories" intends to return to his wife, his son and a flattering job when he leaves January 16.

Those eighteen months in prison rather than quenching his ambitions, raised him to such a height that he feels confident of success hereafter.

"I'm going straight forever," he reiterates. "I'm through with the white mule that led me into this. I have several offers of jobs. I suppose I'll take one and settle down with my wife and son."

"Several offers of jobs" is Snodgrass' way of describing the numerous enticing propositions made to him from theaters, vaudeville circuits, cafes and dance orchestras. He has his eye on one job, however. That is, making music rolls for a player piano company.

Funds Collected.—Appreciation by the fans is a fund that is being collected for him through station WOS, from which Snodgrass has been broadcasting.

In one night 1500 telegrams were received announcing contributions were on the way. They range all the way up to $10 from each fan, and come from such distances as Rhode Island, Salt Lake City, Winnipeg and New Orleans.

That means practically the end of radio entertainment for Harry Snodgrass. Short, snappy and wiry, Snodgrass looks little like a piano player.

But when he touches the keys, his stature is forgotten. His playing has attracted radio fans throughout the United States and Canada to tune in on station WOS, here, especially when the Missouri state prison board is scheduled to broadcast.

He has brought renown to WOS, broadcasting station of the state board of agriculture. Wires from fans all over the country have come into the capitol dome, where the studio is located, praising him.

Fans Respond.—Proof of Snodgrass' fame as a piano broadcaster is shown by the thousands of telegrams he received, the mash notes he has had to turn down, the gifts of candy, tobacco, musical instruments and other valuables and his election to the highest honor in fan-dom. That honor is first prize as most popular radio entertainer in the country.

With the publication of this announcement by a radio magazine, came offers of adopting Snodgrass, of financing his education, giving him enticing jobs and seeking his parole. To all he has turned his back.

ONLY TWO YEARS OLD.
The first laboratory model of the neutrodyne receiver was built in January, 1923. Now fourteen manufacturers turn it out.

USE LARGE DIALS.
Fine adjustment of stations may be obtained best by the use of large dials. Three-inch dials are about the smallest that can be used with any degree of fineness.

TWENTY-THREE YEARS OLD.
The first transatlantic message was sent in 1901 by Guglielmo Marconi. Yet tests are still being conducted to find a practicable system of transoceanic broadcasting.

REFORMED AND FAMOUS

When Harry Snodgrass, voted radio's best entertainer, leaves prison on January 16, his fame goes with him. Radio fans may not hear him as often as they did through station WOS, at Jefferson City, Mo. Above Snodgrass is shown as he broadcasts his piano pieces.

At right is the capitol dome from which his playing was flamed. At lower left, the prison he leaves behind.

"STATION W. B. ZED"

To make its call letters clear to listeners, and differentiate them from other call letters, broadcasting station, WBZ, at Springfield now announces itself as station W. B. ZED, "See" sounds too much like C. V. D. or G.

GROUND THE BATTERY.

Signals received through a loop may be strengthened by grounding the negative side of the A-battery. This is especially applicable to sets having two stages of radio frequency.

BIG LOSS IN TUBES.

More than 8,000,000 vacuum tubes were lost last year through accident, it is estimated. Burning out is the biggest cause.

THREE CLAIMANTS

The idea of directional radio, for which Marconi is given world-wide credit, is now being contested by two other scientists. England courts are considering a suit of this kind.

BRITISH LOUD SPEAKER.

A new type of loud speaker, invented by a Briton, is said to be more pure in tone than any previous instrument. Its operation is based on friction of a piece of ground glass against a piece of cork.

PARIS DROWNED OUT.

Listeners in Ireland can't get radio Paris as they used to. The super-power broadcasting station at Chelmsford, England, is in the way.

FOR FRENCH MONOPOLY

Suggestion has been made in the French chamber of deputies that France make radio broadcasting a government monopoly. The idea is to maintain a super-power station at Paris with smaller pick-up stations scattered through the country.

FANS CERTAIN BROOKLYN HAS
FLAG CINCHED

Leading Pitching Staff In National League Will Be Dodgers' Strong Forte

By PAUL W. WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 3.—
There are baseball fans with whom it is possible to argue concerning the outcome of the 1925 pennant chase but none of them live in Brooklyn.

For in this enterprising borough let it be stated emphatically "there is nothing to it but the Robins."
The athletes under the wing of Wilbert Robinson were the sensation of the senior circuit the past season. Accorded little chance of attaining a first division berth, they surprised all of the critics by hanging around among the leaders throughout the greater part of the summer, finally giving the Giants the scare of their lives and winding up in second place.

This showing was largely made possible by the mound work of the incomparable "Dazzy" Vance, who, during the season struck out 252 men and brought home victory after victory. Burleigh Grimes, Bill Doak and "Rube" Erhardt, minor leaguers, also ran up an imposing string of wins.

It is on this pitching staff that the Dodgers are basing their hopes for this year's drive. Guy Cantrell, from the Okmulgee club of the Western association, is expected to increase the number of effective mound artists to five.

In the catching department the Robins have three veterans in "Hank" Doherty, Zach Taylor and Charlie Hargreaves.

Two of the outfield jobs are certainly a wheat being a fixture in left and Eddie Brown, lifted from the American association in the middle of last season, being virtually assured a place in center. Robinson alternated Bernie Neale and Griffith in right field last year and occasionally gave Dick Loftus, an excellent fielder, but a weak batsman a shot at the position.

There may be no changes in the infield, Fournier staying at first,
Andy High at second, Johnny Mitchell at short and Milton Stock at third, with Jimmy Johnston and his namesake, W. I. Johnston, holding down the utility posts.

All-American of All Time Named
By Grid Coaches

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Recently 20 coaches, many of whom have been at the game for a score of years either as player or coach, were asked to name an all-time All-American team.

There was a wide difference of opinion everywhere except in the backfield. Here the vote of the coaches were practically unanimous.

Eckersall at quarter, Grange and Thorpe at half-backs and Eddie Mahan at fullback. The last three were top-heavy favorites, although
"Bo" McMillan pressed Eckersall hard for the job at quarterback.

"Pop" Warner got the most votes for All-American coach.

Rockne Invites Cards East for Game Next Fall

The "fighting Irish" of Notre Dame left for home today, taking with them the football championship of the country by virtue of their victory over Stanford New Year's.
The game squad was given a hearty send-off at the station.
The return trip will be by way of San Francisco.

Knute Rockne, coach of the Irish, extended an invitation to Stanford for a game against the blue and gold in Chicago next October.

"We would like to see a western team in action back there," Rockne said, "and Notre Dame would feel honored to play Stanford again."

The lowly substitute was very much in evidence in the victory of Southern California over Missouri on Christmas day.

It was a strange coincidence that all four touchdowns, three by Adams and Byrdman, two of the best wings on the coast, took long forward passes and crossed the Missouri goal-line.

The other California touchdown was made by Lefebvre, a substitute halfback, who circled the Missouri ends and dashed through the line.

In keeping with the unique situation, Chief Newman, a full-blooded Indian, who hurled the forward passes, one of them being a 45-yard toss, was also an added star.

Missouri's only score came in the last minute of play, when Tuttle, who had broken into the game in place of one of the regulars, picked up a fumble and went over for a touchdown.

It is an old sport adage that a team is no stronger than its substitutes. Both Missouri and Southern California were well fortified in this respect but the latter had the edge in reserve matterial and won.

While admitting the greatness of "Red" Grange of Illinois, it is hard for the east to see how he could possibly be an improvement over Mahan of Harvard.

A former eastern college grid star, who has lived for two years in Chicago, recently returned to Boston as his place of business.

During his stay in the west he had seen Grange in action a half dozen times. When asked to make a comparison between Grange and Mahan, he did thusly:

"Both are triple-threat players but as yet Grange has not given any great proof of his ability as a kicker. I understand this will be part of his work next season.

L. A. HAS 10-ROUND
BOUT CARD TONIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Legalized boxing in this section was in full swing today, following the inaugural card under the new state law at the Hollywood American Legion stadium last night.

Carrying along in bouts over the longer routes, the Lyceum Athletic club presents the first ten-round bout here tonight when Joe Layman and Joe Schlocker, light-weights, come together. A six-round scuffle features Willie O'Brien and Sailor Covena.

The advent of the longer shows pleased a big Hollywood crowd
when Ralph Smith, Los Angeles fireman, scored a sensational win over Pat Lester, San Francisco heavyweight, in the last round of their six-round battle. Lester was leading by a good margin into the final period, but Smith flashed a spectacular finish to win.

The Legion's show next week will be a ten-rounder with "Ace" Hudkins, Nebraska light weight, showing his wares against Tommy Carter. The Vernon re-opening will be on Jan. 13, with Fidel Labarba and Jimmy McLarnin heading the bill over ten rounds.

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 3.—Two of America's champion runners, Charles W. Paddock national outdoor sprint title holder, and Loren Murchison, who holds the same record on the indoor track, will leave Los Angeles harbor February 24 on a tour around the world.

It was announced here today.
The trip is sponsored by the Amateur Athletic Union to create interest in track and field athletics.
The trip will take eight months.

Paddock and Murchison will give racing exhibitions and lectures in the following countries: Hawaii, Japan, the Oriental Olympic meet in Manila, Greece, France, Germany, the Norwegian countries, Finland and Scotland.

The A. A. U. is fostering the trip in expectation of creating new interest in the Olympic games to be held in Los Angeles in 1932.

Paddock, a local young man, recently completed a lecture tour which carried him into 50 cities in nine states, where he addressed 50, 000 persons on clean athletics.

Murchison races under the colors of the Newark Athletic club.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, JANUARY 3, 1925

2500 TRAFFIC ARRESTS MADE IN SANTA ANA DURING YEAR

Comparative Figures Show Slight Improvement Was Effected In 1924

CONTRIBUTIONS TOTAL $5500 IN FINES PAID

Parking In Restricted Districts, Leaving Cars Overnight Chief Offenses

That motorists are a "careless bunch" was emphasized here today by investigation of the records of W. F. Heathman, city recorder, which revealed that during 1924 2,500 drivers were arrested for violation of traffic laws, made and provided for the protection of life and limb.

There was the consolation, however, that there had been some improvement in the attitude of motorists toward local laws, for the number of arrested the past year were 471 less than in the previous twelve months, when 2966 arrests were made.

Records of the city recorder also revealed that approximately eight motorists were arrested to every one person taken into custody and charged with offenses exclusive of traffic law violations.

And the car owners—those who did not respect the law and were caught—contributed pretty generously to the city exchequer, their financial donations approximating $5500.

Parking in restricted districts and leaving cars on downtown streets all night were the provisions of the local ordinance that were most frequently disregarded. All of the arrested persons did not pay fines, a courtesy being shown visitors in the city who were not aware of restricted parking regulations.

Outside of the auto violators, the next popular offense was vagrancy. Vags, however, do not pay fines and enrich the city. They usually are sentenced to jail for various periods and enjoy the hospitality of the city's free boarding house at the expense of taxpayers here.

Here is this year's record of arrests, segregated into months: January, 322; February, 172; March, 213; April 186; May, 255; June, 254; July, 251; August, 155; September, 192; October, 200; November, 193; December, 107.

WHOS WHO IN MOTORDOM

Among the well known men in automobile circles of Santa Ana is George Platt, who is associated with his father, H. F. Platt, in the Platt service and parking station at the corner of Third and Bush streets, this city.

The Platt service station specializes in the general cleaning and servicing of motor cars, such as oiling, greasing and minor repairs, and has parking facilities for a large number of motor cars.

Platt has been in this business in Santa Ana since 1918, when he was discharged from the army, after serving in France with the 91st division where he held the rank of top sergeant.

Since opening at his present location, which he has occupied for the past three years, his business has been steadily growing and is now one of the largest stations of this kind in Santa Ana. Platt is also the agent for two very popular makes of tires, the Mason and the Firestone.

Although Platt is busy a great many hours a day at his place of business, to which his success must be credited, he is a man of many outside interests. Fraternal and club organizations which carry his name on their roles are the Masonic Silver Cord lodge, the Royal Arch Masons, the Elks, American Legion, and the Lions Club.

Platt stated that his biggest interest in life, bar none, is George Jr., a husky youngster aged, sixteen months.

NASH OPENING SEASON WITH 2 NEW MODELS

Handsome Sedan and Victoria Are Put on Display Here By Local Dealer

The Nash Motor company today had swept into the 1925 season with a new low-priced Advance Six sedan and a Victoria on the Advanced Six chassis and, in the opinion of W. C. May, of the May Motor company, Nash dealer, the new models will be effective in measuring the business of the Nash Motor company beyond the record-breaking business the company had during the last five months of the year just closed.

"Altogether there are now eleven beautiful body styles in the Nash line—both open and closed types, eight in the Advanced Six series," May said. "Foremost among the attractions common to both groups of cars are four-wheel brakes, designed by Nash; full balloon tires and Budd disc wheels as standard equipment; highly efficient force feed oil lubrication; special Nash easy-steering mechanism; and a further array of important features.

"By virtue of its extremely low price the new Advance Six Sedan stands out as leader of the great group of Nash cars. Its beautiful low swung body is mounted on a full 121 inch wheelbase. The interior is unusually large and roomily comfortable for all five passengers. Doors are extra wide; and the upholstery is of choice mohair. With its powerful big Nash Six motor, its balloon tires, disc wheels and four wheel brakes, this remarkable Sedan model sets a new high standard of value for this type of car.

Sharing the attention with the sedan is the smart new Nash Victoria, also of the Advanced Six family. Patterned in appearance somewhat after the magnificent Four-door Coupe, it is literally a delight to look upon. The passenger capacity of the Victoria is ample for four adults. The individual driver's seat is wide and deep, affording unusual comfort and luxury, while the auxiliary seat is broad-backed and comfortably cushioned.

"Attention will be focused on the Nash four-door coupe termed the finest looking car on the street today. Certainly its appeal to the eye is alluring with its long low lines, its massive heavily-crowned fenders, and its trim bevel heading that completely encircles the body. No car offers more in the way of appointments. And each feature and fitting evidences the thoughtful care and study of its selection.

"Nash is also displaying the luxurious seven-passenger sedan as well as the four-door sedan, so named to distinguish it from the new five-passenger sedan.

"The superbly beautiful group of Advanced Six open cars, including

Many New Features Are Incorporated In Cars Making Debut Here

More beautiful in body lines, more roomy and comfortable, and with a host of new mechanical and body features, the 1925 Chevrolet now is making its bow to the Santa Ana public. The Knapp-Lewis Motor company are local distributors for the line.

New models of the 1925 product have just arrived here. They now are on display at the showroom of the company, the former quarters of the Pashley Motor company, Fifth and Ross streets. The new cars come in five body types, touring, roadster, coach, coupe and sedan.

There is hardly a feature of the Chevrolet that is not new, improved or re-designed, while most of these features are of the type and quality characteristic of higher priced cars, according to Knapp. He mentioned some of the outstanding features as follows:

"All models have full stream-line bodies, with refinements in design which make them the most beautiful cars Chevrolet has ever produced.

"New clutch of the dry plate disc type, completely enclosed with flywheel. The rear axle is entirely new of banjo type construction and with one-piece pressed steel housing.

"New springs of the semi-elliptical type, longer and easier riding. New and heavier channel steel frame 38 inches longer, with five sturdy cross members.

"New improvements in the already famous Chevrolet motor, such as heavier crankshaft with larger connecting rod bearings, longer and shorter intake manifold bringing the carburetor closer to the cylinders, insuring better carburetion and easier starting; rocker arms and valves completely enclosed.

"New Harrison radiator shell of highly polished, non-rusting airplane metal. All bodies finished in Duco, in beautiful colors. All open models have re-designed windshield, with very large upper panel to permit unobstructed vision. All closed bodies equipped with V one-piece windshield and automatic windshield wiper. All closed bodies built by Fisher. New bodies roomier. New instrument board, with more convenient and beautiful grouping of instruments.

"The clutch has been changed from a cone type to a perfected single plate, dry disc clutch, which requires no lubrication."

LETTERS ABANDONED. The whole family of Donald H. Johnson in Cleveland has abandoned letter writing. Its members communicate by radio. The other end of the wireless line is the home of Dr. William H. Johnson of Collins, O.

DISPLAY NEW COACH AT LOCAL SHOWROOMS

the newly arrived Oakland Coach which sells at a surprisingly low price. Note the width of the doors and the great expanse of glass

The Killen-Miles Motor company today was displaying at its show room, Broadway at Sixth, the new Oakland coach, one of the 1925 productions of the Oakland Motor company. According to George Miles, of the agency firm, the coach sells here at $1435.

"This new model sells at a price but slightly higher than an open car, yet it is a complete closed car and not a makeshift," Miles said. "It is built to carry five people in comfort, and the wide windows and doors give greater visibility than has heretofore been obtainable in most closed cars.

"The doors are thirty-four inches wide, giving ample room for passengers to enter the rear compartment. The front seats are so devised as to fold and tilt forward, but are as well upholstered and as comfortable as the usual luxurious seats of a closed car.

"The body frame is of selected hardwood with precisely the same kind of construction as is used in the sedan, including the complete bracing and full steel body panels. Metal is used for the back, not fabric. In its appointments it compares with the finest of closed cars.

"Roominess and unobstructed vision are two of the outstanding features of the new car. There is ample room for three in the rear seat, while two in the front seat have ample elbow room and leg room as well.

"A veritable vista of windows, two extremely large ones on each side, with the one-piece Fisher V V windshield in front, affords a range of vision that may be considered the maximum obtainable in a closed car.

"The equipment of this new Oakland model includes an automatic windshield wiper, crank type quick action window lifts on doors and rear windows, as well as the usual standard features such as four-wheel mechanical brakes, centralized control and automatic spark control."

Parking Places Are Varied In French Capital

Paris traffic officers have hit upon a novel scheme for solving the traffic problem in that gay city—at least the officers believe it will relieve conditions.

At the same time it is believed the policy will give better satisfaction to merchants.

The scheme is for cars to park on opposite sides of the street on alternate days—on the odd-numbered days traffic may park on the odd-numbered side of streets. On even days, cars may be parked on the even-numbered sides.

That's some scheme, isn't it anyhow, it does give merchants on each side of a street a fair chance at the business motorists may have to offer.

COLD SNAP DELAYS SHIPMENT OF CARS

A train load of Hupmobile straight eights is "hung up" between the factory and California, and as a result models of the new Hup line will not be on display here the coming week.

Otto Haan, president and manager of the Cadillac Garage company, local agent for the line, had previously announced that a shipment would arrive here today and that cars would be exhibited either today or next Monday.

"We didn't figure on snow and cold weather slowing up rail transportation, but this very thing has happened, and as a result those who have been looking forward to inspection of the new cars will have to be disappointed.

"According to the best information I can get it probably will be around January 15 before the cars en route arrive here."

Tax Collections In Anaheim Increase

ANAHEIM, Jan. 3.—An increase in the amount of taxes collected in Anaheim in 1924 is noted in the report filed today:

Collected by tax collector, $133,066.81; collected by assessor, $6,629.47; delinquent, $3159.95; total, $142,856.23; operative, (which goes to state), $224.46; grand total, $143,080.69.

The collections of the preceding year: Collected by tax collector, $120,784.95; collected by assessor, $7760.34; operative, $217.74.

LACQUER FINISH ADDED BY KERFOOT

Kerfoot's Gene Morris One Day Auto Painting System has added a lacquer finish, it was announced today. With the addition of the lacquer the firm is equipped to do any kind of a paint job.

"After nine months of painting automobiles in Orange county with our one day system, people no longer question our ability to do good work," said Mr. Kerfoot today. "They simply drive in, pick out the color they want and come back in a day or so for the car."

"Our method of working enables the owner to watch his car go through the different operations. Furthermore, it proves to him that the cars get all the material they need. With the lacquer finish added to our line, we are able to give the automobile owner a complete service.

"Automobile owners have also learned that low prices do not mean cheap work."

COURTESY BY MOTORISTS IS URGED AS NEW YEAR RESOLVE

"Let Us Join In Effort to Respect Others' Rights," Editor Suggests

ADVOCATES MOVE TO REDUCE DEATH TOLL

Courtesy Is Declared to Be Potent Factor In Making Highways More Safe

By HORACE FINE (Auto Editor Register)

Motorists, what do you say to the suggestion that we all join in a new year resolution to make 1925 a year pronounced for genuine courtesy on the part of motorists and a depreciation in the ratio of deaths from automobile accidents?

In other words let us all join in one effort to respect each other's right and not try to hog every thing—to give the other fellow a chance for his life and to have the rights that may be his. By doing so we can reduce the death toll. Just think, in Orange county alone last year thirty lives were snuffed out—this according to records of Coroner Charles D. Brown, as published Thursday—in automobile accidents.

We haven't the records for 1924, but in 1923 throughout the nation 22,600 persons were killed in motor accidents and 675,000 persons were injured. Does that shock you? And the economic loss was estimated at $600,000,000.

Undoubtedly a large percentage of the accidents that resulted in fatalities could have been prevented—prevented by courtesy, if you please. There are thousands of drivers, who believe that no one but them have rights on the highway—and such operators were responsible very likely for a majority of the deaths, and injuries, and economic losses recorded in the United States for 1923.

In our own little county, deaths last year were reduced more than one-third as compared with deaths the previous year. We can reduce this another 25 to 50 per cent this year—that is the reduction can be made if motorists throughout the southland would exercise greater care in handling their cars. The blame for fatalities in this county does not rest entirely on the shoulders of Orange county motorists.

Drivers from outside the county were involved in the majority of accidents with fatal results. It was a noticeable fact in the report from the coroner's office, that in very few instances was speeding attributed as the cause of accidents having fatal results for one or more passengers in cars involved. In the past year I have expressed the view that speeding is not the big factor contributing to accidents, and my opinion is borne out to some extent by the county history of deaths.

The California state highway men in charge of road building in the various counties are giving attention to the widening of roads—that is having an important bearing in the reduction of accidents. Wider roads make travel safer and in a measure are a protection to the safe and sane drivers against the reckless and discourteous operators.

Caution in approaching intersections is another means of preventing cars coming together. The motorist who "uses his head," as well as his eyes, usually can tell whether a cross road he is approaching is one bearing heavy traffic, and when such a cross road is encountered he should drive carefully.

It is good policy to look to the right when approaching an intersection, and if all drivers would observe this policy there would be far less accidents at intersections.

We still are in a muddle about that "little old" pink slip—modified.

P. O. RECEIPTS AT ANAHEIM IN 1924 INCREASE

ANAHEIM, Jan. 3.—Receipts at Anaheim post office for the year 1924 show an increase, despite the general business depression of the year just closed. Total receipts at the local office were $46,855.29 as against $46,700.12 in 1923. While the increase is slight, it is nevertheless satisfactory, according to Postmaster Harry Whitaker, who pointed out the various conditions which have seriously hampered the year's activities.

December showed an increase over the preceding year, indicating a restoration of good business conditions in this city. The first two quarters produced an increase in postal receipts while the last two periods were slightly less productive of revenue.

Receipts by quarters were: First quarter, $11,249.36, as compared with $10,543.91 in 1923; second period, $10,634.66, as against $9,654.63; third quarter, $9,729.76, as against $10,360.13; closing period, $15,241.51, compared with $16,141.50 in the preceding year. December of 1924 the receipts totaled $8644.82 compared with $7746.74 in 1923.

BEACH JOKERS WOULD DRY UP PACIFIC OCEAN

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 3.—Dry raids and petitions are two fashionable things in this town, judging from the amount of attention they are receiving.

Hence a petition being circulated here today by James Macklin and D. W. "Boss" Huston, which asks that action be taken to dry up the Pacific ocean.

The petition reads: "We, the undersigned, ask that the Pacific ocean dry up, and the waves to quiet themselves on Sundays as they make too much racket."

The "wet and dry" issue is involved in the drying up of the ocean, according to Macklin.

NASH IS SHOWING TWO NEW MODELS

the five-passenger touring model, the seven-passenger touring model, the roadster, are the most outstanding values Nash has ever offered. With low, long body lines, accentuated by bevel beading encircling the body broad, deeply crowned fenders special leather upholstery and also with the complete list of mechanical and equipment features previously mentioned as common to the entire Nash line, these fine cars present a powerful and inviting appeal.

Commanding the greatest attention in the Nash Special Six display is the stunningly beautiful sedan for five passengers. No car that Nash has ever produced has met with such nation-wide favor in such a short period of time as this low-priced closed model.

"The touring and roadster of the Special Six series are also proving great favorites among buyers who gauge values carefully. Note-worthy among their attractions, in addition to full balloon tires, disc wheels and four-wheel brakes, are the automatic wind-shield wiper, rear view mirror, new type kick plates, transmission lock and fine leather upholstery.

"It is interesting to note that Nash now builds all of the open models of both lines with a new type permanent 'all season' top as optional equipment. Glass enclosures have been specially designed and fabricated for the permanent top and may be secured at slight extra cost. They are splendidly constructed with perfect ventilation provided, since both front and rear windows open and close."

Held In L. A. As Murder Suspect

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—A man believed to be John C. Holte, 22, wanted in Minneapolis for murder, was arrested here today by Detective Lieutenant Hall.

Holte is charged with killing another man during an argument over a trivial automobile accident. The victim's wife and four children witnessed the tragedy.

Detective Hall said he was "positive" his prisoner is Holte and is awaiting further word from Minneapolis to complete identification.

COUPLE ELOPES TO SAN DIEGO

TUSTIN, Jan. 3.—Word was received here today of the marriage of Miss Kathleen Honora Ahern, 18, of Irvine, to Percival Cedric Clark, 28, of Laguna Beach.

The couple were married in San Diego yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, after eloping to that city from here. Miss Ahern is a former student at the Tustin high school and has many friends in this community.

Leaving for a drive yesterday morning, the next that was heard of the couple was a telegram received by Miss Ahern's parents, telling of the marriage. It is not known when they will return. They will make their home in Laguna Beach where the bridegroom has a new bungalow prepared for his bride. He is a rancher.

CHANDLER CO. ADDS 3 MODELS TO LINE

The Chandler Motor Car company has added three models to its 1925 line it was announced here today by Fred Medbery, local distributor, as one of the motor surprises coming coincidentally with the first of the year.

"The leader of the new models is the Chandler coach imperial, a five passenger two-door sedan carrying the same price as the five-passenger touring car. The other new models are the five-passenger sport touring, and the comrade roadster with a rumble seat," Medbery said.

"But little change has been made in the Chandler chassis, although its leading features, the powerful Pikes Peak motor and the traffic transmission, have both been improved in detail during the last year.

"Two other sedan models that will prove popular at this season's automobile shows are the Metropolitan Sedan and the Chummy Sedan, two de luxe models of cars that had long been leaders of the line.

"The Chandler coach imperial is described as being in every way worthy of the Chandler chassis.

"It is a two-door sedan, seating three in the rear seat and two in the front compartment. Both front seats are arranged to fold forward. The body is made of heavy gauge metal, such as is used in the quality sedan, and the frame throughout is made of kiln-dried hard wood.

"The coach is Duco finished in a beautiful shade of blue.

"Despite its completeness and unusual comfort, the coach is priced at exactly the same figure at which the Chandler five-passenger touring car is offered, thus giving the purchaser the option of an open or a closed car at no difference in cost.

"The new five-passenger touring car has been called the sport touring because of its exceptional beauty and style. The body is finished in Duco with an option of two colors, Luxor Blue and two-tone gray green.

"An innovation in the manner in which the front seat is trimmed, the seat cushion fitting underneath the back of the seat. This leaves the back springs free for action, and does away with the crevice at the rear of the seat cushions.

"The comrade roadster, a comparatively recent addition to the Chandler line, appears in a greatly improved model, the principal change being the addition of a rumble seat of novel design and exceptional comfort.

"A feature that will attract much attention is the new style tire carrier, mounted at the rear of the Comrade, perhaps the only one of its type to be seen. It is a complete wheel, in a natural wood finish, upon which the spare tire is fastened by two easily adjusted lugs.

"Some interesting changes will be noted in the Pikes Peak motor. This power plant, first presented at the New York show of 1923, in its two years' existence has carried the Chandler to victory after victory in important officially observed hill-climbing contests and acceleration competitions, establishing for the Chandler its fame as a car of unusual hill-climbing ability.

BUILDING AT SEAL BEACH GOES AHEAD

SEAL BEACH, Jan. 3.—A backward glance shows that Seal Beach has steadily advanced in 1924 in the improvements that make for future prosperity. Since the opening of the year the $5,000,000 unit of the Alamitos Bay electric plant, under construction by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation, has gone forward and is now enclosed in an attractive brick wall. Building permits for 1924 totaled in value $812,000. Of this sum, $524,000 is represented in the big electric plant, leaving a balance of $288,000 represented in city building. Nearly $45,000 was expended during the year on new street work.

An addition to the grammar school doubled its capacity, added an attractive auditorium, additional class rooms and modern equipment at a total cost of $22,000.

Street work included the paving of Ocean avenue, Bay boulevard, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and a part of Eighth and Central avenues.

As to whether we are going to have to produce it in order to renew our licenses for 1925. Attorney General Webb says the law does not require its presentation—but Will H. Marsh, superintendent of the motor vehicle division says we do and Marsh seems to be the "big chief." He says, and with emphasis, that those motor owners who present the pink slip along with the certificate of registration will be given first consideration and will receive their plates ahead of those who do not comply with his ruling. He says that with presentation of both certificates the division will save much time in verifying the records. He advises this week that persons who present white certificates only are likely to be put to considerable inconvenience before they will be able to get new plates.

A check of applications made for 1925 has revealed that more than 100,000 motorists already had complied with the division's request "to grope" and avoid the rush," and had mailed their applications and fees.

Marsh says that with few exceptions all of these applicants obeyed the division's ruling that the pink certificates of ownership be submitted as well as the white certificate of registration. He says the applications show that most of the motorists who were not legal owners of their cars got in touch with the legal owners and had the latter make the transaction for them.

The division chief has again reiterated his statement that only applications made by mail to the Sacramento office will be given consideration prior to February 1. On that date branches of the division will start issuing plates. Branches of the auto clubs also will then receive applications from their members, delivering plates at the time of the application and giving a receipt for the fee, the certificates to be issued later by the department.

NEW YEAR SALES ARE GOOD AUGURY

With the sale of two Lincoln sedans on Christmas day and one on New Year's day, George Dunton, local Lincoln dealer, today declared that the old year passed out in a burst of glory and the new year entered with a promise of big Lincoln business for the coming year.

Mrs. A. M. Pope, formerly of Redlands, now president of the West Coast Textile company at Orange, Thursday accepted delivery of a four-passenger, three-window sedan at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles, and yesterday morning started by herself on a tour to San Francisco, Seattle and Spokane on business. She will be absent three weeks.

J. K. Hermon, vice-president and manager of the Santa Ana branch of the Pacific-Southwest bank, made himself and family a Christmas present of a Lincoln model of the same type as that purchased by Mrs. Pope.

C. C. Blanchard, Christian Science practitioner, closed the old year driving a Lincoln five passenger sedan. Hermon and Blanchard have been driving Lincolns.

LIQUOR HEARING IS STILL IN PROGRESS

Developing unsuspected length, the preliminary hearing of Alexander Wilson, of Westminster, on a charge of selling liquor, was still in progress today before Justice K. E. Morrison, having started yesterday afternoon.

The defense opposed strong resistance to testimony of the star prosecution witnesses, Tony Fauda and Fernan Alarcon, who are now awaiting trial themselves on a charge of robbing Wilson. They claimed to have made several purchases of wine from Wilson, this angle of the case being discovered during an investigation of the robbery, which took place last June 15.

The witnesses today testified that they made four visits to Wilson's place on the day of the robbery, and purchased a gallon of wine for $5 on each visit.

The defense objected to testimony concerning more than one sale, and much time was spent today in arguing the point and citing authorities to cover it.

MOULDERS WILL DISCUSS STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—A mass meeting of moulders from the San Francisco bay district will be held here tomorrow to vote on a strike, it was announced today by A. T. Wynn, local secretary of the Moulders' union.

The strike is planned as a protest against enforcement of the "open shop" plan in San Francisco bay foundries, an issue over which there has been considerable agitation for three years, climaxing here recently in a series of attacks on both union and non-union men.

WHITE MAKES REPORT TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF STATE REALTY ASSOCIATION

Everett A. White, president of the California Real Estate association, in Fresno today, presided for the last time over a session of the board of directors, as president of the association.

Carl Mock, of Santa Ana, who was recommended by the Santa Ana Realty board as White's successor on the board of directors, was elected. With White automatically becoming a director through his position as a past president, the Santa Ana board is now represented on the governing body of the state association by three men, F. C. Pope being the third member.

Many business matters important to the state organization were discussed at the directors' session today.

White surrenders his authority as president to D. Richard Ainsley, of Fresno, at the ceremonies in inauguration of Ainsley to be held tonight at the California hotel.

White Makes Final Report

At the directors' meeting today, White made his final report, as follows:

"To the Board of Directors of the California Real Estate association:

"At the close of my administration I have the honor to report to the board of directors of the great California Real Estate association as follows:

"You are meeting today in the convention city for 1925, the city that is in the heart of California, and more than twenty years ago this same city was the scene of the preliminary organization of this association.

"You are meeting under the usual circumstances of regular session, the first of the new year, and the only session over which I will be privileged to preside as president of the state association.

"I am pleased to report that we have before our association one of our most constructive and most useful programs, not only to realtors, but to the entire state. Your association will participate in the following, according to the plans outlined by this administration in visits to boards:

"Spreading the gospel of the realtor to all; farm land development; building up industries for all California cities; own your home movement by every board; legislation affecting real estate interests; appraisal program for boards; educating the broker and salesman; department to hold qualification tests; multiple listing for boards that desire it; a bureau of information and research.

"A survey of taxation; more standard forms; a greater magazine; a greater news service; more field work among our boards; more new boards; more members throughout the state; budget and finances; take the realtor in earnest.

Comments On Los Angeles

"Besides this constructive program, we are facing the unusual situation created by the letter of withdrawal from one of our member boards. It is a trying situation. It is a problem which your state association convention acted upon by virtually unanimous vote. It is a problem which the national officers and directors at Columbus have acted upon also with unanimity. But the action of the board in sending in its letter of November 29 is before you today. The communication is here together with the formal letter of reply by me. I submit them to you for your consideration and action.

"All these, and more duties, are before your officers and committees. And these committees are headed by able and willing workers and the stage is set for the realtor's greatest year in California.

"Tonight you will again inaugurate a new president who will be sworn in by the state real estate commissioner. This is certain to be one of our great annual events.

"Today your state membership is well over 3000, the largest enrollment we have yet attained, and your magazine is exceeded in circulation by only one real estate journal in the world.

"Twenty years of progress, your association has recorded. The whole state knows and admires its work.

"Many years of additional service to our profession are before us. And as the president of this association, I earnestly request you to review the work of the association and ascertain what is the best thing to still better serve the interests of all concerned.

"The membership drive for California realty boards was a great success. Had it started a month earlier, the splendid National Association of Real Estate Boards would have taken nationwide part. The national officers lent your association every assistance. Many of the boards participated in this drive and the vice presidents responded most nobly. Local boards increased their active, associate and affiliate members, thereby adding and pledging more than 800 local board members. More than 500 of these are to come into state and national associations on the first of the year. This campaign for members is to be made a yearly matter and will enable each and every board to profit therefrom.

"This directors' meeting has the attendance of many board members as well as directors. The California Association of Realty Secretaries also is meeting here with us for the first time. There is union and strength on every hand, and your state association is growing by leaps and bounds, and it is to my personal knowledge stronger in the hearts of the people of California than it has ever been before.

"I am glad to report personal visits to members of 39 real estate boards since last we met in Pasadena. These contacts enable me to say that your association has a high and warm and

SALES EXPERT TO BE MAIN SPEAKER AT BANQUET HERE OF MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION

One of the busiest spots in Santa Ana is the offices of the Merchants and Manufacturers association, at the city hall, where the committee on arrangements of the forthcoming grand annual banquet and general meeting, to be held next Tuesday evening at St Ann's Inn, is working overtime for the success of the big event.

Bruce E. Switzer, of the Rankin department store, is chairman of the committee. Other members are A. F. Hill, O. A. Haley and C. E. Walker. P. S. Lucas, secretary of the association, is working with the committee on the program arrangements.

Music for the banquet will be furnished by the Santa Ana Symphony Orchestra, an organization of 30 pieces.

Star Attraction. Listed as a star attraction is Peggy Hamilton, newspaper woman and writer, recognized authority on fashions and dictator of styles. She is the lady who is responsible for the dazzling fashions and models in the rotogravure section of the Los Angeles Times and the Midweek Preview. She has just returned from Europe where she was presented to royalty and feted by the "Who's Who" in journalistic and literary circles. She viewed the fashions in Paris and returned to the United States on the "Berengaria," on which ship she met the Prince of Wales, and dined and danced with that "real prince" of good fellows.

Hugh A. Gerrard, president of the association, will open the meeting with a few appropriate remarks, and then introduce Russell R. Miller, past president of the Kiwanis club, toastmaster of the evening.

Estey Main Speaker. With Charles Lawrence Estey, sales education expert and advertising counsel, a national figure in chamber of commerce activities, on the program as the principal speaker, there is a real treat in store for those who will be present. For the past thirty years he has been engaged in studying and practicing merchandising and advertising. He was employed as promotion counsel for the United Typothetae of America for more than two years and as advertising counsel for the National Association of Stationers and Manufacturers for four years, and for the past year as counsel for the Printing Trades Division of the Los Angeles Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association. He is a member of the Los Angeles Rotary club, chamber of commerce, Advertising Club, Master Printers' Association and other business organizations.

Hidden behind gaily decorated tables set with holiday greens and flowers, groaning with turkey and chestnuts, "kazelnut" potatoes and a few surprises from the famous chef, will be a raised stage with thirty chairs and music racks for the orchestra. A special program, including several operatic selections and concert numbers has been arranged for the dinner. Included in this program will be a few surprises—a solo by a famous baritone and two soprano numbers.

Robbers Escape With Loot and Cop's Revolver

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Two purse-snatchers grabbed a vanity case from Miss Helen Smart and fled in an automobile.

Patrolman B. D. Atkins saw the robbery and snapped his revolver at the machine. It failed to fire, so the officer hurled the weapon at the car. It crashed through the rear window and landed in the tonneau.

The two purse-snatchers continued fleeing, with a vanity case—and a revolver.

Fleet Nines Will Battle for Title

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Play for the baseball championship of the United States battle fleet will commence January 15. Teams of the various vessels anchored off San Pedro were in uniform today for practice, and a schedule of games for the title is being mapped out.

The U. S. S. California team won the fleet honors last year and will put practically the same squad in the field this spring.

Scientists recently completed a microphones that is said to record sounds made by a small insect, generally believed to be mute.

DENIES APPEAL IN DRY RAID ARREST

Word was received today by District Attorney A. P. Nelson that the appeal of Frank Moore of Huntington Beach, from a decision by Superior Judge Z. B. West, who denied his petition from release on writ of habeas corpus, had been denied by the district court of appeals.

A copy of the opinion has not been received here and the grounds for denial are therefore not known. The writ was denied without argument or the filing of briefs.

Moore, who is awaiting trial on a charge of selling liquor, recently attempted to secure release by habeas corpus, arguing that he was only acting as agent for anti-saloon league representatives who gave him money with which to purchase liquor for them. When Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wetlin produced authorities holding that there could be no agency in crime, the court ruled that Moore was a principal in the sale, and refused to release him.

Attorneys Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, representing Moore, appealed the case.

SPEEDER TO START 20-DAY TERM TODAY

Waldo F. Seller, automobile mechanic, 112 North Arden street, Los Angeles, was due to appear at the Orange county jail today, to begin a 20-day sentence for reckless driving and speeding on Orange county roads. He was convicted last Tuesday, in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court on a charge of driving 55 miles an hour, near Irvine.

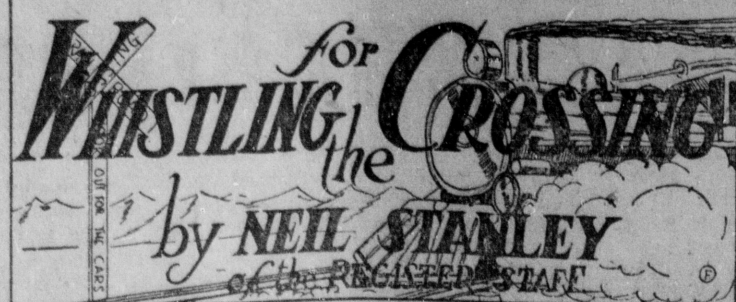

Late last night a long distance telephone call from Los Angeles to the county jail was answered by Jailer Clyde B. Flowers. A woman's voice asked if it was true that people put in jail for speeding were not allowed to receive letters. She also inquired if prisoners were allowed to receive visitors in the county jail.

Flowers told her, he said, that she could send as many letters as she chose, to the jail, but that all are censored before being delivered to the inmates, and that she could visit the speeding prisoner between the hours of 9 and 11 a. m. on Saturdays.

The woman refused to give her name, according to Flowers, but he said that she was evidently someone who knew a "speed" prisoner due soon at the jail.

LOOSE STEERING GEAR

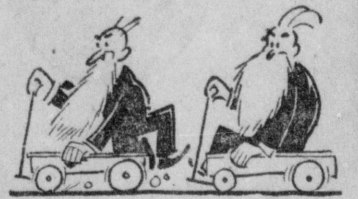

Do not neglect your steering gear. If it is worn the wear on your front tires as a result will very soon amount to more than the cost of having the gear repaired. Also, if the gear is loose, it is difficult to place the car accurately, and there is danger of losing control.

LOVE LETTER THEORY OF BRITISH SCHOLAR WRONG, CLAIM SMITH BROTHERS Harrowing Experience Cited "Letters of Gold" Remark of Widow Results in Use of Type-writer

Present day love letters are not worth keeping, says British scholar. He doesn't know what he is talking about, declared the two Smith brothers, Horizontal and Vertical, when informed of the statement.

"Why," said Horizontal, "some of the love missives penned nowadays are worth thousands. At least, some of the ladies who have received them figure they are worth thousands. Of course, they don't always convince the jury, but then, there's nothing like trying."

This is an informal picture of the two Smith brothers, Horizontal, left, and Vertical, right. They are on their way to Orange county park to watch the squirrels.

"Take us boys, for instance," said Vertical. "There are lots of ladies who are just crazy about us and we have to be very careful. We write a good many love letters but we're too clever to get mixed up in a breach of promise suit. We always use a typewriter and sign somebody else's name to it."

"My brother almost got sued not long ago and that's why we're so cautious," explained Horizontal. "The lady in the case was a widow and one time she told Vertie here that she thought his letters were little nuggets. My bud immediately got suspicious and since that time we've been rather careful."

Model M, Series B, No. 1,009,167 "Oh, yes, I expect to keep every one of my New Year resolutions."

Watchful Waiting Numerous watch parties were held to watch the New Year arrive. Numerous wives hold individual watch parties ever so often when their better halves fail to arrive, on time.

It Happens Every Year Proprietors of tobacco stands report that while sales fell off yesterday, business took a surprising turn for the better today.

A Practical Suggestion A Gloves Day ought to make a big hit with the citizenship. That would be one day when everyone would be above suspicion.

Dead or Alive Many of the resolutions passed New Year's concerned one Little Willie, he of the 2 a. m. vocal notes. Willie's nightly prowls have caused more than one sleepy Span to cast about for something to throw into the night. It is said that he is partial to the major key. At last accounts the resolutions had not borne fruit.

A RELATIVE FACT Holidays, like relatives, sometimes wear out their welcome.

"Something Just As Good" Holiday lovers will have to be content with special days for a few days. There are some who positively refuse to accept substitutes but then, they are in the minority.

ANOTHER SPECIAL DAY Somebody ought to advocate an Anti-Day Day. And all who didn't observe it should be required to learn the name of the present Vice-President of the United States.

Who Invented Holidays, Anyway? What is it, in seven letters, that closes stores and opens athletic grounds? Begins with "H" and ends with "y".

"CROSS" Cross has lately sprung into international prominence. As the running mate of word, it's fame has extended even into the African desert. By itself, it has other meanings. For example, a man will cross the street. Of course, it isn't likely that he will cross without getting a free ride on the fenders of an automobile, but the illustration serves its purpose. On the other hand, it may be said that a man is cross, meaning that his breakfast has not agreed with him or that his golf average is below par. To preserve one's peace of mind, it is well to avoid cross people.

This Day in History Thousands are thinking today who never thought before. Throughout the length and breadth of the land, men and women, too, are thinking about some of the resolutions they made New Year's. This is thought day, although it is admitted that it is rather unusual to associate thoughts with resolutions.

Deputies Probe Tale of 'Burial' In Orange Grove

Several deputy sheriffs, in a hurried call to Stanton late last night failed to find any trace of several men who were reported to be "burying something" in an isolated orange grove, near that town, as reported to them at the sheriff's office here.

Officers rushing to the scene were working under the impression that a murder had been committed and that the body was being interred, but a thorough search of several groves in that vicinity failed to reveal anything unusual, according to a report made by Chief Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan, on their return. Deputy Sheriffs Joe Scott and Joe Ryan accompanied McClellan.

First Twins of 1925 Are Boys

Santa Ana's first pair of 1925 twins arrived last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Navarro, 1224 West Second street. Both are boys. One tips the scale at nine pounds, the other weighs just eight. The mother and the new arrivals are doing quite nicely, thank you!

Strikes Match at Gas Tank; Sorry

ANAHEIM, Jan. 3.—Walter Elliott, 17, struck a match as he was drawing gasoline from a 50-gallon tank at the rear of the W. J. Elliott home, on East Center street, last night, and started a fire which for a time threatened to destroy the residence. As it was, in the explosion that followed, Elliott suffered painful burns about the legs, and the gasoline tank and building which enclosed it, were destroyed, with a loss of $600. Prompt work of the fire department prevented destruction of the residence.

"Tongues of Flame" is the last novel by the late Peter Clark MacFarlane. It's a full-sized thriller with the star in his finest role in months. The picture more than proves that Meighan's name outside of any theater is a guarantee of money's worth entertainment within.

Tom is sure there when it comes to virile, two-fisted "he-man" characters. And "Tongues of Flame" is Meighan at his best.

Joseph Henabery, who made Valentino's "A Sainted Devil," directed the picture which tells of a grasping capitalist who uses every underhanded means imaginable to swindle a group of Indians out of their valuable reservations. Meighan, playing "Hell Fire" Harrington, veteran of the Great War, in the employ of the swindler is used as a tool in the transaction until he is brought to a realization of what is going on.

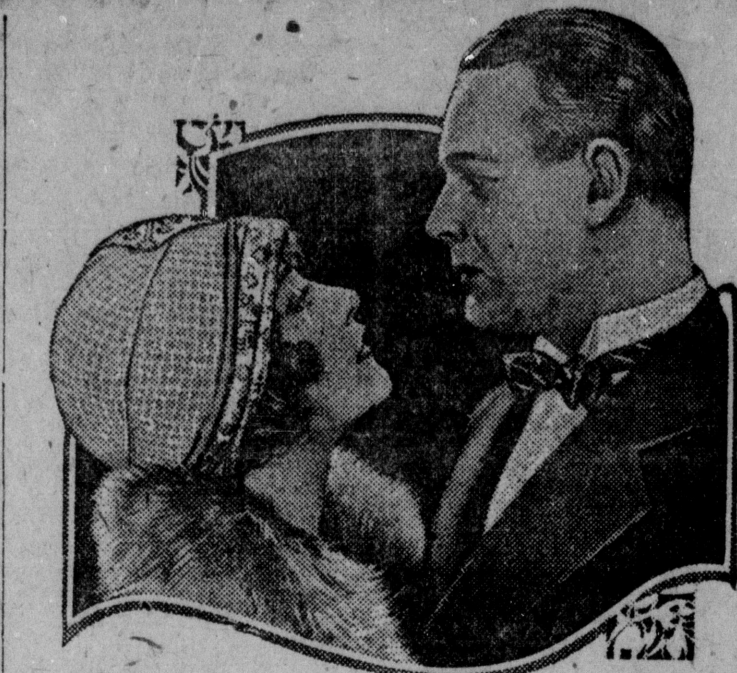

The Indians, many of whom had served in Harrington's company in the World War, come to him with their troubles. Their spokesman, Lahleot, a little Indian girl school teacher who worships Harrington from afar, tells the young lawyer that her people have need of his services. It is then that "Hell Fire" shows how he got his name.

Action? Tons of it! Heart-thrilling? Tons of it! Giddy drama? You said it!

BETTY COMPSON FILM AT YOST TOMORROW.

There are several reasons why "The Enemy Sex" which is coming to the Yost theater, beginning tomorrow is awaited with more than ordinary interest. First of all, it was produced by James Cruze who directed "The Covered Wagon." This fact in itself is a guarantee of its worth from a directorial standpoint. Secondly, the cast, headed by irresistible Betty Compton, is nothing short of all-star, since it includes such well-known favorites as Percy Marmont, Huntley Gordon, Kathy Williams, Sheldon Lewis and De Witt Jennings.

Coming to the story we learn that the picture was adapted by Walter Woods and Harvey Thayer from Owen Johnson's "The Salamander," the most startling of all flapper, jazz novels. It's a romance dealing with the love adventures of a chorus girl who makes a laughing stock of five wealthy, sophisticated men, each of whom tries to add her to his collection of women. Imagine Betty Compton as the fascinating chorus girl, the wise little gold-digger who plays with the five biggest men in New York and beats them all at their own game!

"THE DESERT OUTLAW" AT TEMPLE SUNDAY.

There's a colossal kick after many thrills in "The Desert Outlaw," starring Buck Jones at the Temple theater on Sunday.

Sam Langdon, the hero, and Tom Halloway, her brother, have restlessly, desperate May from the brutal clutches of drunken Doc McChasney, the outlaw leader. They escape on horse-back. They are pursued. They barricade themselves in an old abandoned mill. The battle starts. They fight desperately. Hopeless, against overwhelming odds. Both men are wounded. Their last shot is spent. Then, the dawn bursts. And sweeps their assailants away. "Sensationally saved" is right.

a most remarkable young man. His novel, published last season, became one of the most sensational best sellers of the year. It was his first book and he wrote it when he was only twenty-one years old.

King Vidor—Incidentally, the youngest director of prominence in pictures—has made a film version of "Wife of the Centaur," which comes to Walker's theater Sunday. The cast includes John Gilbert, Eleanor Boardman, Aileen Pringle, William Haines, Philo McCullough, Betty Francisco and others.

"HOOT" GIBSON CLOSING AT WALKER TONIGHT

Hoot Gibson returns to the strictly Western atmosphere in "The Ridin' Kid From Powder River," picture closing at Walker's theater tonight. He is given ample opportunity to show some of the skill that made him championship winner at Rodeos before he became a screen star. The present vehicle is a story of Arizona in the cattle days, adapted from Henry Herbert Knibb's novel, and Knives, shears sharpened at Hawley's.

"PETER PAN CLOSING AT WEST END TONIGHT

There is hardly a man, woman or child in the land who doesn't know and love "Peter Pan," the boy who wouldn't grow up.

For the past twenty years this J. M. Barrie play has been nothing short of a sensation on the legitimate stage. It has become an institution, in fact—an institution that shows no sign of decay.

Barrie, the man with the most colorful imagination of all England's writers, has put into this classic scenes which could only be hinted at in the stage production of the piece.

But on the screen, it is an entirely different matter. In the Herbert Brenon production for Paramount of the Barrie masterpiece, with Betty Bronson, Ernest Torrence, Cyril Chadwick, Virginia Brown Faire, Anna May Wong and others in the all star cast, the under ground home of the Little Lost Boys, Never Never Land itself, the Indians, fairies and pirates, the Darling home, dog-nurse and all have been reproduced with amazing fidelity on the screen.

"Peter Pan" closes tonight at the West End theater.

Herbert Brenon was selected to direct the picture because he was the producer of the first two fantasies the screen ever knew. Roy Pomeroy, who handled the technical end of the Cecil B. DeMille super-production, "The Ten Commandments," which stood the entire industry on end, is responsible for the many weird effects in "Peter Pan."

'BAGDAD' FILM BEGINS RUN AT WEST END SUN.

Douglas Fairbanks will be seen in the amazing picture, taken from the Arabian Nights, "The Thief of Bagdad," a picture that is said to be away and beyond anything yet seen on the silver screen, at the West End theater for one week beginning tomorrow. This lovely story of romance and adventure abounds, according to all accounts, in happenings of as astounding and unbelievable magic. Nothing like it has ever been at tempted, nothing like it has ever been seen, nothing like it has ever been accomplished. This beautiful, farcical story, born of a poet's dream in Arab, was made into an entrancing reality by Douglas Fairbanks. It breathes the spirit of imaginary worlds, where the unusual is usual, where the impossible is possible. In brief, the following are the chief incidents of the tale: In Bagdad Magic City of the East, dwells Ahmed the Thief. He is an audacious rascal, living by his wits. He steals a Magic Rope with which he can climb into the air; he escapes with it, and finds himself in a Temple. Here the Holy Man is expounding the theory that "Happiness must be earned." The Thief flouts this philosophy, but carries away an impression that is vaguely disturbing.

With the Magic Rope, he gains entrance to the Palace of the Caliph. While looting a chest of jewels, he is intrigued by the sound of sweet music. He follows it to the bed chamber of the Princess who lies sleeping. He kneels beside her couch. Her slumber becomes restless; her hand touches his. With a cry of alarm she awakes and throws aside the silk coverlid which falls over the crouching Thief. He is thus hidden from the guards who rush in. The Mongol Slave Girl spies him, but he threatens her into silence with his dagger—and escapes.

A Mongol Prince, a Persian Prince and an Indian Prince, are suitors of the Princess. In state, they arrive to ask her hand. There comes also a strange "Prince Ahmed"—the Thief in disguise. The Princess remembers the prediction of a soothsaying slave that "Whoever first toucheth the rose tree in the courtyard, him shall you wed." She watches with anxiety, which turns to joy, when she sees "Prince Ahmed" touch the rose tree.

ROWELL'S FIELD WIDENED

It was with a great deal of pleasure that The Register yesterday announced that within a few days it would begin running daily a column of editorials from the pen of Chester H. Rowell, one of the foremost editorial writers in America. As a writer on current affairs, as a logician, for clarity of thought and expression, Chester Rowell is without a peer among Pacific Coast writers.

Mr. Rowell began his public career at Fresno, where for a number of years he was a high school teacher. Leaving the teaching profession, he became editor of the Fresno Republican, which was owned by his uncle, Dr. Chester Rowell, a revered pioneer of Fresno. Fresno Republican editorials quickly gained a statewide reputation.

This reputation was enhanced during Rowell's participation in state and national campaigns. For a year or more, under President Wilson, Mr. Rowell was a member of the United States Shipping Board, and following that a member of the California State Railroad commission. It was while a member of the commission that his editorials were syndicated and appeared simultaneously under his name in newspapers all over California. The Register being among the papers that had them.

This arrangement was ended when Mr. Rowell and his family started on a journey around the world. Returning, the writer's services were secured by World Work for a series of articles on the need of securing cabinet representation on the floor of Congress. He took a prominent part in California during the early fall in campaigning for the re-election of President Coolidge.

While in Santa Ana during the campaign, Mr. Rowell said that it was likely that his comments would again be syndicated. Efforts had been made to secure them, but at that time he had made no decision as to how they would be handled. Now comes the announcement that he has entered into a year's contract with the N. E. A. Service, Inc., of Cleveland, O., a firm that furnishes features to newspapers all over the United States. To this service, The Register has been a subscriber for a number of years.

It is significant that through this distribution, Chester Rowell will reach an audience that is nationwide. His editorial comments will be read in newspapers large and small, by hundreds of thousands—even millions—of men and women.

The best way to celebrate New Year is to pay the old year's bills.

A MATTER OF HABIT

Grouchiness is a habit; so is being pleasant. True, allowances must be made for differences in dispositions. Some people are born with sunniness in their souls. Others have gloom to overcome. But there is no person so filled with grouchiness that he cannot rid himself of it. A grouchy disposition is a pest; that none will deny. If one who is not naturally cheery lets his disposition develop along the line of least resistance, his grouch becomes a habit.

It is a good time of year for each of us to study our dispositions. We do not need to consult others. It is a survey that anyone can make for himself of himself. He will know whether his survey is honest and whether his conclusions are fair.

If such a survey proves to you that you are a grouch by habit, change your habit. If your survey proves to you that you are cheerful and happy by disposition, that you smile with ease, that you are neither cranky nor unreasonable, then indeed are you blessed.

When they succeed in turning mercury into gold, it will run away still faster.

A PROPER AND SAFE COURSE

Anyone who has the idea that the death of Judge Cox made it permissible to speed on Orange county highways have "another thing coming." Some of them have had this additional "thing" already, for they have faced Judge Cox's successor and have found that the successor, Justice Kenneth E. Morrison, believes that one who endangers the lives of others by speeding on the highways or by cutting in must be dealt with in a decided and consistent manner.

The speeder finds that Justice Morrison has ideas of his own. They were not passed to him by tradition alone. True, others have similar opinions; that does not prevent Justice Morrison from sincerely believing that the way to secure proper enforcement of law is to enforce it upon all alike. Those who have watched the new justice in action find that there is no effort on his part to live up to another's policies; his effort is to do his duty as he sees it. Our opinion is that in doing that he has set for himself a proper and safe course.

Food supply in this country is said to have been increasing slower than population. Better prices will take care of that.

ACCEPTING THE RADIO

Radio is the fastest growing industry in our history. It has swept into general popularity far more quickly than, for instance, the auto.

In 1920 the total sales of radio sets and parts amounted to only two million dollars. The next year, this rose to five millions. In 1922 it was sixty millions, which doubled the year following. Sales in 1924 soared to 300 million dollars.

Our generation is unique in the way it quickly adopts new devices. Former generations were suspicious of the new. Even the sewing machine was bitterly fought after its perfection. The public believed it would throw seamstresses out of work.

Old-time publishers and printers had their doubts about the linotype, but lived to see it revolutionize printing.

We have seen so many impossible things work that we are willing to believe almost anything after it is demonstrated, which was more belief than could have been expected of the generations living from fifty to a hundred years ago.

"THINGS GO ON"

George Eastman, philanthropist, multimillionaire and successful manufacturer of photographic instruments and supplies has given nearly $60,000,000 to educational institutions. In his own community he has liberally endowed a theater and a symphony orchestra and has spent generously in furthering the social and educational activities of his employees.

But perhaps the most important thing he has given to those with whom he has come in contact is something which few will recognize. That is his fine spirit of service. Mr. Eastman is quoted as saying:

"There always is something more to do. No one is 'down and out' until he is dead. Nor should anyone be 'up and out' so long as he can go on achieving. No one should stand still. We never reach the end of anything. Things go on."

Things do indeed go on, and the greatest handicaps to their going on in a good way are the people who assume that everything possible has already been done.

A wise man might resolve not to make any New Year resolutions, but just try a little harder to do the best he can.

Only about half of the veterans who are entitled to adjusted compensation have so far applied for it. The eligible still have three years to file their claims. However, veterans should get their application into headquarters as soon as possible.

Belgium and Greece, which have just touched Uncle Sam to the tune of $50,000,000 and $11,000,000 respectively, know there is a Santa Claus.

Keep Frosted Fruit Out

Pasadena Star-News.

Commendable action has been taken by responsible growers of citrus fruits in Southern California to prevent shipment to market of any fruit that may have been injured by recent frosts. It was agreed to abide by county ordinances against shipment of damaged fruit, and no oranges are to be sent out except by approval of county horticultural commissioners, under present ordinances.

Frost undoubtedly has done some damage to citrus fruit. The exact extent of this damage cannot be estimated at this time. But extreme care should be exercised to keep any fruit that is damaged from leaving this state for outside markets. California citrus fruits have a deservedly high reputation for soundness and excellence of quality. It would be lamentable indeed to injure this reputation by sending defective fruit into the markets.

Furthermore, the individuals and interests that are belittling and defaming California throughout the East and the Middle West would avishly seize upon something like this—shipment of frosted fruits—to use as bolstering their attacks upon this state. The citrus fruit growers of this section must not play into the hands of these enemies of California.

Sacramento is in the same group as Long Beach and San Diego, but has made no recent claims on population. That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

REAL HEART SYMPTOMS
It is surprising to find so many individuals who imagine they have heart trouble. Despite the assurance to the contrary on the part of their family physician, or even a heart specialist, they nurse the idea that something is really wrong with their heart.

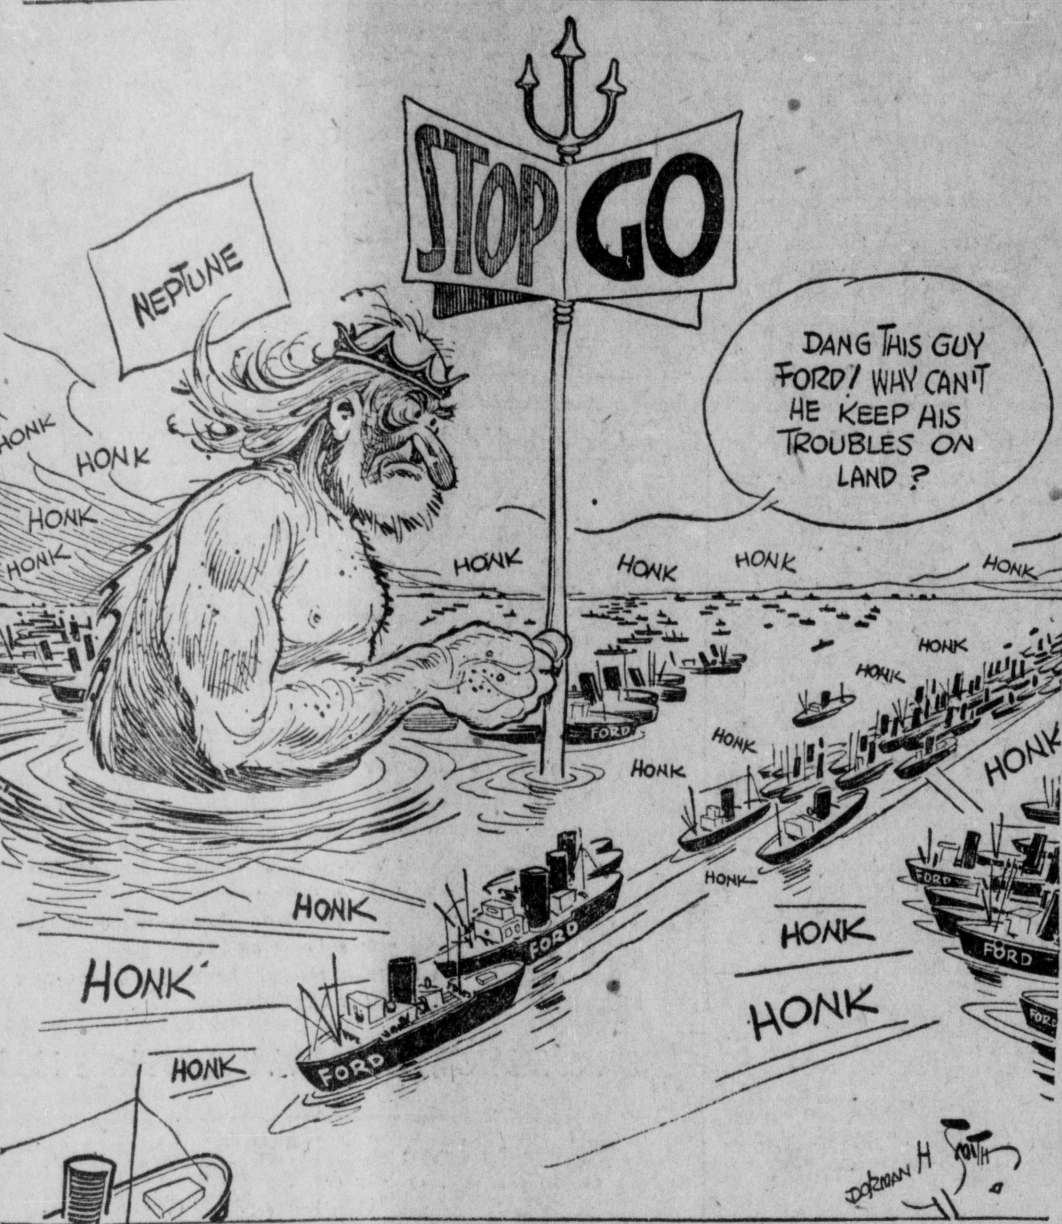

They feel sure of it because there are times when the heart beats very violently, when it seems to "palpitate" as it is called. At other times it will beat very rapidly, and seem to slip a beat. Then there are others who seem to faint occasionally, and nothing can persuade them that it is not the heart that is the cause of these fainting spells. Still others have a giddy feeling at times, and the heart is likewise blamed for this.

Now what about this palpitation? Most of it is due to indigestion or to nervousness, and the heart itself is just reflecting what is happening inside. The heart itself is not affected except in the rapidity of the beats. The fainting has nothing to do with the heart usually, but is due to emotional disturbance, or just physical weakness. The giddiness is due to some liver or ear disturbance, and likewise has nothing to do with the heart.

A heart specialist of high standing puts this matter of heart disease into very simple language. He states that if you can do the ordinary work of your home, can climb stairs at an ordinary pace, can walk at a fair rate of speed down the street, without "getting out of breath," then you should not worry about your heart, even if it is really diseased.

So try to remember that once point, and if your heart seems a bit unsteady at times, you actually faint, or have giddiness, don't worry about it, because these things are not important from the heart standpoint. The big question is "Do you get out of breath on slight exertion?" If you don't, then forget about your heart. This was likely the advice you received from your family doctor. Isn't that true?

Better Days For World

Long Beach Press-Telegram.

Nineteen hundred and fourteen marked the opening of a decade of warfare and tragedy, intrigue and destruction. The sun of a brighter day and a greater hope appeared in 1924, and the second year of the new decade will open with the most encouraging outlook which a troubled earth has ever enjoyed. The change for the better is due to a large degree to the fact that where politicians and diplomats of the world failed, the American business man stepped in and succeeded.

Owen D. Young, who collaborated with General Dawes and Henry M. Robinson in drafting the Dawes plan of European rehabilitation, said in a recent address in New York:

"It looks as if there were a real hope for a new day in the world. A day in which human beings in all countries may live peacefully and develop and work and save."

Mr. Young pleaded for a higher level in diplomacy. He asks for the establishment of a definite foreign policy and its continuity, free "from horse-play of domestic politics even with changing administrations." He adds that if this is done the interests of this country and the peace and tranquility of the world will be advanced and insured.

In short, there is a demand for the injection into public life of the high ideals which are actuating business communities and which are making possible a better understanding between employers and employees; which, in brief, are causing men to see that a practical working of the Golden Rule is possible. There is no phase of economic controversy to which it cannot be applied, and the same is true of international relations.

Foreign policies must change with changing conditions, but it should be possible to reach a basis upon which all disputes can be adjusted. If it can be done in so delicate a controversy as that between Germany and France it can be done anywhere at any time.

HOLIDAYS

The holiest of all holidays are those Kept by ourselves in silence and apart.
The secret anniversaries of the heart.
When the full river of feeling overflows;
The happy days unclouded to their close;
The sudden joys that out of darkness start
As flames from ashes; swift desires that dart
Like swallows singing down each wind that blows!
White as the gleam of a receding sail,
White as a cloud that floats and fades in air,
White as the whitest lily on a stream,
These tender memories are a Fairy Tale
Of some enchanted land we know not where.
But lovely as a landscape in a dream.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pope

Mr. Parkins came to see my sister Gladis last night and I was out in the hall setting on the bottom step still reading the 2nd volume of Adventures in King Arthur's Day all about brave knights doing brave deeds and fighting each other with lances on horse back and different things, and after a while I put my cap on backwards and stuck my neck in the parlor door and Mr. Parkins and Gladis were setting on the sofa talking and laughing, me saying, Zounds, by my honor, wat do I spy?

You'll spy a pillow in your face if you start any of that, Gladis, sed.

I am Sir Ben, a knite of Sir Arthurs round table, beauteous damsel, wat is your royal will? I sed.

My royal will is for you to make yourself scarce before I call father, Gladis sed.

Wat care I for your relations, I will hie me hence, I sed.

And I went and started to read some more, and then I put on Mr. Parkins hat and started in the other parlor door, saying, is there any lady in distress in the audients, the grate Sir Ben has arrived.

For the love of 8 dollars go easy on my new hat, Mr. Parkins sed, quick taking it off of me and looking at it carefull.

Now wat do you want, once and for all, wat do you want? Gladis sed, and I sed, Im a fearless knite in serch of adventures, how can I serve you, fair damsel?

Im going to call father, Gladis sed, and Mr. Parkins sed, No, dont do that, he mite come down and throw me out or somethings before he finds out wat the matter. Now Benny, if youre such a wonderful warrior and must lick somebody or something, suppose you take this little token of affection and go and get yourself a cupple of ice cream cones. I understand they take a lot of licking, he said.

Me taking the dime and the hint and going out, only I didnt get ice cream cones, buying a duzen different color lollypops insted, taking even more licking.

The Patchwork Quilt

By ELEANOR YOUNG ELIOTT
(Have you any patches to add to it?)

THE VERSIFIER
I thought to wax most eloquent upon the charms of duty;
By writing gilded words, I meant to emphasize its beauty.

"Idealize the daily grind and make each hour a pleasure"

"'Twas thus I fashioned in my mind, full many a sonorous measure.

"Do noble deeds the whole day long" I paraphrased the poet And dreamed of how my life—a song—would illustrate and show it.

Alas, when done, the thing I wrote was nothing like a sonnet—
'Twas just a sorry blotted page with random lines upon it.

A fair word here—a fair word there—the rest just blots and blunders
(The page I hoped to keep so clear and fill with joys and wonders)

And now I have another page all spotless in its whiteness
And—undeterred by past mistakes, my heart all buoyed with lightness—

I plan to write of peace and cheer, and duty's charm upon it Hoping with all my heart, this year will yield a lovely sonnet.

CHRONICLES OF THE LITTLE GRAY HOUSE

"Do you believe in fairies?"
It wasn't the delightful Peter Pan who refused to grow up because he wanted to remain a little boy and always have fun, who asked the question, it was a delicately yellow flame dancing at the top of a red Christmas candle in the Little Gray House.

Perhaps the flame danced in that manner and propounded the question because I had just been to see the lovely fantasy which sprang from the pen of a genius. For there exists no genius greater than that of James Matthew Barrie who can look into the very heart of childhood and see what is written there.
Or is Barrie the original Peter Pan who never grew up but remained forever a child and hence able to interpret childhood to others?

And of course I believe in fairies.
I have always believed in them, but unfortunately I had forgotten it until that day a few years ago when Maude Adams, the most wonderful Peter Pan in the world, ran down to the footlights and called the question in agonized tones, depending on the answer to save the life of poor Tinker Bell.

Who could fail to believe to believe in fairies after seeing "Peter Pan"? Surely it was belief in fairies that made the dear little blonde-haired girl sitting next me in the darkened theater New Year's afternoon, sob with sympathy over some of the pathetic bits where the little Lost Boys miss the mother love they have never known. It was belief in fairies that took a small brown Japanese father and his four sturdy little brown sons with incredibly clean faces and incredibly shining black eyes, to sit entranced through the performance. It was belief in fairies that held the fascinated attention of a lovely young Spanish mother and her wide-eyed little daughter through the whole magic afternoon.

"Certainly I believe in fairies!" I assured the candle flame, sleepily but emphatically. The answer evidently satisfied the flame, for when I opened my eyes again, it had quietly slipped away and left the room to firelight and to me.

IN REPLY WOULD STATE

This is a personal matter, and I feel that I am risking a very fine and beautiful friendship to publish a purely personal note, but the whole thing is so clever that I want others to smile over it with me. It is a little note that came in reply to the last issue.

When dreams come true I shall wander away
To the hazy hills that are calling today
And seek a wild glen and a swift-running brook
Where the soft breezes blow I'll find me a nook
Where pain cannot reach me, nor care find the way.
On a bed of wild flowers I'll lie all
the day
With the birds and the bees and
the butterflies too—
They'll soothe my heart's longing
For dreams that come true.

NO. 18.—SNITCHER SNATCH IN THE BEAUTY PARLOR
Nancy and Nick and Johnny Sweep chased out of the door of the grocery store after Snitcher Snatch, the goblin, as fast as they could go.

But the little fellow was too quick for them. He turned the first corner he came to and disappeared.
"Now what do you suppose he'll be doing next?" cried Nancy, stamping her foot.

"Oh, look at the three dirty children!" called out a little boy.
"You'd better go home and get washed."

Nancy and Nick and Johnny Sweep ran down the street as fast as they could go. They didn't like to be called dirty.

What was the use of their washing as long as they had to chase up and down chimneys after a naughty goblin.

"Well, he's gone!" cried Johnny Sweep. "We may as well hop on my broom and see if we can follow his footprints when he gets out of town."

When Snitcher Snatch reached the corner, he stopped for a minute for breath. His long nose was very red from running so hard.
Beside he had bumped it on the swinging door in his hurry to get out.

That gave him an idea at once.
For Snitcher Snatch was as smart as a college professor.
"I know! I know!" he sang out, doing a heel and toe dance in his
joy. "I'll go to a beauty parlor.
There's one across the street."

So he went over and looked in.
But he had to go up in an elevator and he knew very well that no elevator man was going to let a goblin in.

"I'll have to go down the chimney," he said. "It's the easiest way anyway and my nose is safer."
So he scrambled up to the roof

to a rhymed Christmas greeting, and the author is noted as one of the city's cleverest women. A fact which, I am sure you will agree with me, speaks for itself.

"I long to say in verses neat, I think the rhyme you sent most sweet, but 'twixt me and th' divine affiliatus .there, yawns, a terrible hiatus. I often feel at this blest season, that I'd far rather rhyme than reason, but since my Pegasus limps badly, I lay my pen aside quite sadly and say "It's very clear to see poems are NOT made by fools like me!"

It was a certain young matron who was entertaining at her first New Year's dinner. Among the guests was the pastor of one of the local churches and his family. The Rev. Mr. Blank is noted as one of the wittiest men in Santa Ana and at the dinner he proved to be at his brilliant best and kept the whole company in a constant uproar.

When the dinner finally came to an end, the young hostess dried her tears of mirth from her eyes and sighed: "If I were a queen I should revive that good old custom and have a fool present at every meal."

WORDS CROSS AND OTHERWISE

Dedicated to Eleanor Elliott
by the author

Alas! the letters do not come Though anxious hearts are yearning.
With Father gray—his lips are dumb—
To Mother feebly turning;
Around the center table there
The family is seated;
Their eyes bewildered vacant stare
Confesses they're defeated.

They started at the bottom low,
A. Inn, Goths—now they're beaten;
Oh what can seven letters show
That's served but is not eaten?
A liquid, seven letters—now
Their brains are all befuddled; Poor Dad to whiskey turns, somehow
It only gets him muddled.

"Let's work from east to west,"
says Ma,
"The first is just a letter,
"The next is very simple, Pa,
"Think we're doing better."
They get O, Ind., and Idaho
All in their proper places.
But as they farther westward go—
Alas! great, open spaces!

MASON YOULD.

WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE
Ah me, to think "When dreams come true"
What wonderful, wonderful things
I'll do!

I'll paint—(and artists will open their eyes)
I'll write a poem that wins a prize!
A garden of flowers all sweet and rare

I'll have for my friends to linger there
With the birds and the bees and
the butterflies too—
These are some of the things I'll do
When dreams come true.

When dreams come true I shall
wander away
To the hazy hills that are calling today
And seek a wild glen and a swift-
running brook
Where the soft breezes blow I'll
find me a nook
Where pain cannot reach me, nor
care find the way.
On a bed of wild flowers I'll lie all
the day
With the birds and the bees and
the butterflies too—
They'll soothe my heart's longing
For dreams that come true.

For dreams that come true.
